At the monthly business meeting of the church held September 16th, 1891, the following minute occurs: "That Brother R. W. Sawtell be appointed to write the history of this church."<sup>7</sup> This is the extent of the instructions given—not a word of advice as to length or breadth or scope or plan. "No wonder that latter was never looked into till late in winter ; and when it was also well known that others had been previously "appointed" to the work, but had given it up after "looking into it." No wonder, I say, that it was with reluctance that it was ever undertaken by one who had neither experience nor knowledge in "bookmaking." But the fact remained that the church intended it done and loyalty to the church demanded sacrifice on the part of some one of its members, thus the task was accepted,

The "history" is simply a condensed compilation of the minutes of the Church business and to any but the members and their friends can afford but little pleasure or interest, and for them it is written simply as a book of reference, making no claim to literary merit nor presenting any striking or extraordinary historical events—yet with the writer's conviction that it will be appreciated by the present and future members of the Church as a memento of the doings of those who have gone before and are now enjoying the fruits of their labors in the "Better Land."

INTRODUCTION.

Few churches of any denomination possess records the publication of which would excite interest outside its own membership and adherents. Some have been published and failed even to interest its own members. Among the few which have created more than ordinary notice "The Broadmead Records" may be mentioned. This was the history of an old Baptist Church at Bristol, England, existing since the year 1640, and which had the distinction of furnishing victims deemed worthy of persecution and imprisonment, if not for the stake, for opinions held and maintained in favor of soul-liberty, and who willingly suffered tortures in defense of the truth.

The First Baptist Church of Oxford possesses no such striking records, hence can claim no such distinction, neither can we hope to create an interest outside our own circle and friends. Probably not one in a hundred of our present or past membership have examined our records and few of our younger members have a true conception of the origin and past history of the Church. It has been thought wise by the Church that for this reason, and also on account of the fast fading manuscript, to endeavor to rescue at least the leading events of the past 70 years and place them within the reach of every member in a condensed and readable form, and thus, at least, to preserve the facts, and if such should excite an interest and a determination on the part of our members to become better acquainted with the history of their own denomination at large a greater point will have been gained.

If it were allowable to interweave matters which suggest themselves to our minds as we peruse the records, it would not be difficult to create an interest beyond our little circle or even the boundaries of our county. The period of the existence of our church would embrace the dawn of settlement and civilization of western Canada as well as the history of the wonderful strides in agriculture, education, and the arts and sciences of the nineteenth century.

It would show the progress of agriculture from the stripping of the dense forests of timber through which the red men had roamed for centuries unmolested by their white brothers and the development of the soil into the beautifully cultured farms which we witness today; it would exhibit the progress of architecture from the bark covered shanty of the early settler, built by the use of the axe alone, to the costly residences, commercial palaces, churches and public buildings, culminating in the magnificent structure now nearing completion for our county courts and public offices; it would array before our eyes the tools and implements, as some of us have seen them, in advancing usefulness in every decade, from the sickle and cradle to the almost perfect machinery of the day and with which our farmers are familiar. It would remind us also that the use of steam as a motive power was scarcely known, and very little of the machinery which is now through its discovery brought into use; that railroads were then unknown and steam boats almost equally unused; that electricity has been harnessed, not only for telegraphing and lighting, but for locomotive and motor power in every conceivable form. The indispensable telephone, the phonograph, the typewriter, and a thousand other useful and ornamental articles owe their discoveries to the period mentioned.

Then, too, the origin and perfection of our public school system, with our advanced colleges of learning, our public and free libraries, our various benevolent and charitable institutions and hospitals have, in this short period, attained to considerable eminence.

When we think of the picture of loneliness presented by a solitary shanty in the dense wilderness and perchance not even the sound of any other axe within hearing, or a friend within many miles, we might well say that "the pioneers of that day were worthy of being classed as heroes of great courage and determination."

The earliest record that we have of the settlement of this county dates back almost a century. In the year 1793 Col. Simcoe, then Governor of Canada, invited the U. E. Loyalists who had manifested by acts of daring and courage their love for the British flag and a desire for its maintenance, to come into Canada and possess the land.

The first who responded to his invitation was Thomas Horner, who came and pitched his tent in Blenheim, on the banks of the stream now known as Horner's Creek. The Governor had three concessions surveyed and presented to him. Mr. Horner subsequently moved his family there and began a settlement by building a saw mill the materials for which had to be carted all the way from York State. The next settler, as far as we know, was Thomas Ingersoll who selected "Oxford on the Thames," which consisted of what is now known as three townships by the name of Oxford East, West and North. Mr. Ingersoll settled on the banks of the Thames where Ingersoll now stands, which was named after him. Unfortunately both these gentlemen, after they had spent much labor and some money in surveying and making roads, lost nearly all the lands given them by Governor Simcoe, they being escheated to the Crown. It was discovered after the governor was recalled and his successor came that no patent had been issued and the then government ignored their just claims except a small position to which they were entitled as squatters.

Subsequently Benjamin Loomis settled in West Oxford and Peter Lossing in Norwich, where he founded the colony of Quakers and to which place many followed him.

The assessment roll for 1812 contains 64 names only and out of which the following in the nearest settlement are selected, viz: Veron Mather, lot 12, E. Oxford, 200 acres, 12 cleared, 1 horse, 2 cows; Robert Clarke, lot 13, 200 acres, 18 cleared, 2 horses, 2 oxen, 2 cows; Levi Luddington, lot 17, 200 acres, 20 cleared, 1 horse, 2 oxen, 4 cows; Zecharia Burtch, lot 18, 200 acres, 30 cleared, 1 horse, 2 oxen, 4 cows; Archibald Burtch, lot 19, 100 acres, 6 cleared, 1 horse, 1 cow; Levi Babbit, lot 20, 100 acres 14 cleared, 1 horse, 1 cow.

In 1817 the population of the whole county (which then included west Nissouri, Burford and Oakland townships) had increased to 530 with 78 houses so called, 1 minister, Elder Maybee in West Oxford, presiding over a strict communion Baptist church, but no place of worship; one grist mill two saw mills, but no school, no police court and no gaol.

Among the very early settlers we find the names of those who became constituent members of this church and others who joined soon after, nearly all of whom were U. E. Loyalists.

Old Country emigrants had not yet reached this far inland, hence New England customs and New England religion were largely adopted.

In the fall of 1821 Elder Tallman, an open communion Baptist, came into this county for the purpose of settling his son on some land in Zorra. He did not wish it to be known that he was a preacher, but it inadvertently leaked out and he could not resist the demand for a sermon, and after hearing one they wanted more. It soon spread over the settlement and they flocked for miles to hear him. He seemed to have been a man of considerable force and influence and soon gathered a following. He returned to his home in York State before winter, leaving his son in Canada.

At this time there were about 2,000 inhabitants in the county where there are now nearly 50,000, and then but 1,000 in "Little Muddy York," where there are now nearly 200,000 in the great metropolis of the Province of Ontario—Toronto.

In the spring of 1822 Elder Tallman returned to Oxford, whether by invitation of his admirers here or to see what his son was doing, or his own desire as an evangelist it is not said, but the result of his visit was the formation of an open communion Baptist Church. The first and for ten years the only church in the settlement where Woodstock now stands.

CHAPTER I.

1822 - 1828

Elder Tallman - Constituent Members - Organization - First Baptism - Adoption of a Covenant and Rules of Faith - Baptism in Horner's Creek - Church Formed in Blenheim - Ordination of Elders Cross and Harris - Springford Church - The First Convention - A. Burtch - W. H. Landon.

In the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and twenty two Elder Thomas Tallman, pastor of the First Free Communion Baptist church of Worcester, Sharon and Cobuskill, State of New York, made a visit to this part of Canada, duly authorised to constitute and organize churches wherever God in His Providence may cast his lot and proper applications being made to him for that purpose.

There can be no doubt as to the Authority delegated to him, and it is also evident that he was a man of persuasive and magnetic power, for we learn that the persons whose names constitute "The First Free Communion Baptist Church in the Town of Oxford" had been members of the "Close Communion Church in Oxford."

The following are the names:—

Salmon King, Rufus Foster, John B. Tree, Richard Tims, Horace Cross, Mathew Randall, David Cross, jr, Ira Barr, Lois Dibble, Elizabeth Welch, Elizabeth Tree, Lydia Sickles, Lucy Barr, Charity King, Rebecca Randall, Rachel Thornton, Betsy Cross, Lydia King, Abigail Foster."

The petition to Elder Tallman to constitute and organise the foregoing parties into a church to be called "The First Free Communion Baptist Church of the Town of Oxford," was duly presented and notice given for such purpose to take place at the school house.

The following is the record:—

"Oxford, April 22nd, 1822, met agreeable to previous notice, on the Governor's Road at the school house near Bro. Tree's and made application to Elder Tallman, who called on Bro. Cross and Bro. Welch to sit in council with him and it was their opinion that each member should give a relation of the work of God's grace on their hearts and the travel of their minds touching the present application which was individually complied with, and after which he proceeded to constitute and organize the church in gospel order and rule. After which came forward Brothers V. Welch and D. Cross and joined the church, and the brethren gave Bro. Cross liberty to improve his gifts in holding meetings and expounding the Scriptures wherever God in His providence may open a door." (Sgd) Salmon King, ch. elk.

At the same meeting, Joseph Northrip and John Baldwin told their experience, were baptized and received the hand of fellowship, thus constituting a church of twenty-one members. A covenant and rules of faith, almost as long as the 39 articles, were adopted and subscribed to by every member. One article provided for the setting apart one day in every month to acknowledge their covenant. Thus began that, to them, all important meeting which seemed to constitute the test of true discipleship and firm adherence to the cause. For a period of forty years these monthly week day meetings were held with more or less regularity and enthusiasm, but were long since replaced by the weekly prayer meeting, where the edification of each other by the relation of Christian experience was continued, but the practice of exclusion for failing to confess orally to the covenant and articles of faith a discontinued. Another article provided for discipline of members by the vote of "male members only." It would be interesting to reproduce the whole but space forbids.

April 29. The church met at the school house near Bro. Cross', agreeable to notice, "to receive a number of members which could not attend last Saturday, when Elder Tallman preached. On the following Sunday they were baptized and received the hand of fellowship, after which the communion of the Lord's supper was celebrated."

At every monthly meeting additions were made to this infant rise and the Spirit of Christ was manifest in the conversion of «ouls. At the June meeting Elders Bangford and Tallman preached. James Harris (after preaching on the following Sunday) was "received into fellowship and granted a license to improve his gifts."

On the 13th of October "A general meeting" was held near Horner's Creek, in Blenheim, at the house of Joseph Smith, Elder Tallman preached, after which eight were baptized in Horner's Creek, A church was then formed consisting of thirteen members. J. Goble was elected to serve as deacon and Bro. Slaughson, clerk. Richard Tims was the first deacon elected to serve the Oxford church.

On the 31st of the same month we learn that "a council was held in the house of David Curtis for the purpose of ordaining-Darius Cross and James Harris." The delegates from the Ox-church were Elder Tallman, L. H. Perry, Vine Welch, J. B. Tree and Salmon King. Elder Tallman was moderator and 8. King, clerk. At the November covenant meeting the firs-of discipline (The cause being excessive drinking) was carried to the exclusion of the member.

Among the additions for the year of its organization we find the familiar names of Abigail Burtch, Laura Harris, N. Hill, J. Vanduzen and Joseph S. Sickles.

On the 25th of January, 1823, the question of finance was discussed, apparently for the first time, and it has been a live and important question all through its history. On that occasion the conclusion reached was embodied in this resolve: "That each male member shall pay six cents per month for the necessary expenses of the church and that Salmon King be the treasurer to receive the said tax." There are two points worthy of notice here, viz: "That Canada Currency" was not then in common use and that church finances were not characterized by voluntarism. The next item worthy of note occurs March 29th, 1823, when, after the covenant meeting it was "voted that an address be sent to the free communion Baptist conference, to be held at Bowman's Creek next June, and a day to be set apart for fasting and prayer the second Thursday in May. This was the first effort to seek recognition by the body to which the church had attached itself.

At the covenant meeting April 26th, John Smith from the States was received by experience and letters of recommendation and was licensed to improve his gifts.

During the year 1823 we find that Elders Tallman, Cross and Harris made frequent visits to the lower settlement—as South Norwich was then called—and preached acceptably and the result was that in February, 1824, "the brethren there asked to be set apart as a branch church." This appears to have been done after the general conference and what is now known as the Springford church was duly constituted.

Among the many familiar names of persons admitted in 1824 we find those of Sprague, Dibble, Aldrich, Dean, Luddington, Clark, Lamport, Hallock and Burtch. The last named was baptized on the 28th day of August and in December following he was appointed deacon, and L. H. Perry church clerk.

On January the 16th, 1825, a meeting was held in Taft's school house in Zorra—or over the river as it was called—when A. Taft and wife, E. Cody and wife, M. Cody and E. McQuain were baptized. On the following June we find that A. Taft was appointed deacon and Darius Cross clerk of that branch of the church in Zorra.

Among the papers preserved are the original minutes of "The Free Communion Baptist Association of Upper Canada", in convention at the house of Deacon Archibald Burtch in East Oxford, on the 24th of June, 1825," at which Elder Goble preached and Elders Cross and Harris and many others felt the freedom of the Spirit and spoke of the goodness of God."

Elder Goble was chosen moderator, and L. H. Perry, clerk of the conference, then proceeded to read the letters of the churches, when the following statistics were given, viz: Blenheim church 37 members; Southold 15; Oxford 79; Norwich 15; total 146. A petition from the Norwich branch was read "asking to be set apart as a church." Petition granted and the hand of fellowship given by the moderator.

After completing the business of the conference it was "voted that the clerk prepare the minutes for the press and have them printed."

On the 30th of July a covenant meeting was held at Harris Street, for the purpose of settling some difficulty among the brethren, the nature of which is indistinguishable in the fading record, but some exclusions took place: the frequency of which in those early days indicate that either a laxness in the admission of members or a puritanical strictness in discipline existed.

The years 1824 and 1825 witnessed large accessions, numbering not less than 42, mostly by baptism. Among them were members of families whose descendants remain with us, viz : Hallock, Rowell, Dolson, Lamport, Burtch and Gee, not forgetting one who more than any other in after years taught and served the church in its various struggles and prosperities for nearly twenty five years, we refer to William Henry Landon. He was admitted by letter on the 30th of December, 1825. About the same period Jane Blow, who had been baptized by Elder Cross and joined the church in Blenheim, subsequently coming to Woodstock and becoming a member where she has to this, its seventieth anniversary, wielded a great influence by her walk, conversation and example as the honored wife and widow of Deacon Burtch.

At the January meeting 1826, several cases of discipline were dealt with and exclusions followed in great solemnity. At the same meeting Deacon A. Burtch was chosen church clerk protein. By the close of this year the number of members had reached the comparatively large aggregate of eighty. The covenant meetings had been variously well attended either at Taft's school house, at Harris Street in West Oxford, in the Rowell settlement in East Zorra, or at head quarters—Governor's Road—as the place where Woodstock now stands was then called. While they seemed to have had no paid pastor the church was supplied and the ordinances administered by Elder Tallman, then Elder Cross, while Elders Harris and Goble frequently preached. The first church worshipped in the log school house on the corner of what is now Dundas and Chapel streets, and when the congregation was large in Deacon Burtch's barn. In 1827 no additions were made and only two in 1828. On the 30th of August of this year W. H. Landon was duly ordained an elder, and thence forward devoted much of his time and talent to the interests of the church.

CHAPTER II.

Special Zeal— Elder David Marks—Efforts for a Union of Baptists—Failure—Zorra Church—Harris Street Church — New Frame Chapel—Elder Landon's Pastorate—The First Sexton—First Association—Communion Restricted.

The year 1829 seemed to have been a year of great zeal and large accessions. Among the first baptized we find the names of George and Hannah Blake, Anna Welch, Henry and Lucy Lamport Later in the year, Stephen B. Tree, Thomas Earl, Elijah Hill, Benjamin Lamport, Edward Topping and many others, numbering forty-two, whose names are still familiar to us and many of whom the older members were well acquainted with. Jeremia Letts, one of the 42 mentioned, was shortly after made church clerk, but some trouble having arisen he resigned till it should be cleared up and Deacon Burtch again assumed the duties.

On the 12th, 13th and 14th of June 1829, the "Eighth annual Free Communion Baptist conference of Upper Canada" was held in the house of Deacon Burtch. A copy of the minutes has been preserved which states "That Elder David Marks preached the introductory discourse from 1 Peter 2-5 verses." David Marks in his autobiography refers to this occasion and says: "The Lord favored me with one of my best seasons and comforted the hearts of many." He goes on to say "our yearly meeting had appointed Bro. Straight and myself to attend this conference, to open a correspondence and labor to effect a union with this people. They received us affectionately and advised their churches to appoint messengers to meet in conference with us in two weeks."

This conference seems to have been a very pleasant one. Elder Landon was elected Moderator and Oran Wright, Clerk. The number reported as members of the Oxford Church was 69. Elder Marks, as nearly all know, was an evangelist whose labors in the interest of the "Free-will Baptist Church of America" were remarkable. He made several tours through this part of Canada, preaching to large assemblies who gathered from great distances to hear him. In the same year (September 20, 1829), he married Marrilla Turner, a daughter of Capt. Turner, then residing on the Governor's road, on the 1st lot of the 10th concession of Zorra. He speaks very highly of the reception he always got from the Baptists of Oxford, and was anxious to bring about the church union referred to.

We learn, from his work, that the joint meeting was held at Oxford the last of June, when there were present six delegates from the "Free-will Baptists" and fourteen from the "Free Communion Baptists." After fully discussing the subject of union, they found that the chief differences between them were: "Whereas the Free-will Baptists maintain that a saint, in this state of probation, may lose that grace and that character which constitute him such, and thus finally perish: the Free Communion Baptists generally maintain the reverse. Secondly: That Free Communion Baptists have a few written articles of faith, abstract from the Scriptures, while the Free-will Baptists acknowledge no standard but the Bible."

It was agreed to meet at the Holland Purchase yearly meeting in August and endeavor to effect a union. Elder Harris attended the meeting, but there is no evidence that a union such as Elder Marks desired was ever formed.

On the 30th day of May, 1830, the following were appointed delegates to the general conference, viz.: Elders J. Harris and J. Goble, brethren A. Burtch, S. Rowell, M. Cody, E. Cross and E. Topping. It is not stated where the conference was held this year.

At the covenant meeting, held at the school-house, July 31, 1830, Bro. Coulburn asked for a "letter of recommendation from the church." On being asked why? he replied: "That, being a public speaker, he could not conscientiously preach final perseverance." The church "voted he should have a letter, but not of recommendation; for he brought occasions against the church." Thus, in the past, as well as the present, men differed in doctrinal belief and discussed their differences; but, like Paul and Barnabas, parted company.

On the 28th of August it was voted "that at the next covenant meeting there lie a donation by the brethren to defray the expenses of printing our minutes." This, certainly, was an evidence of progression; also, that there were facilities, within their reach, for preserving a record of their doings through the press.

We learn that a council was called, to meet at the Blenheim Church on the 30th of October, to settle some difficulty, which had arisen in that infant church, and the following large delegation was sent from the parent church: Elders Cross and Harris, Brethren Burtch, Rowell, Blake, Letts, Rexford, Perry, Topping, B. Lamport, H. Lamport, J. Barraclif, S. B. Tree, N. Brown and D. Burtch.

Reuben Martin was appointed Church Clerk, December 3. At the same meeting a resolution was passed to "set off East Zorra Church as a branch of the Oxford Church."

Elder Tallman, whose absence is not accounted for, again appears at the covenant meeting in October, and subsequent meetings to May, 1831, when he, with Elders Cross and Harris, and Brethren A.

Burtch and R. Martin were appointed delegates to general conference to be held the 10th day of June.

A very interesting covenant meeting was held October 29th in which Elder Jenkins, Elder Landon and a large number of members took part; and also a number of candidates gave their experience and applied for baptism.

The brethren at Harris street made a request to the Oxford Church, on the 10th of December, 1831, to be set off as a separate cause, to be called " the second branch of Oxford Church."

At the covenant meeting, August 25th, 1832, we find that a license was granted to Brother E. Topping "to improve his gifts wherever God in His Providence may call him." There were then 82 members in good standing. In February, 1833, Jeremiah Letts was again appointed church clerk. There is no other record for that year.

For 1834-5 there is no record, and until October, 1836, there seems to have been a barren, unfruitful period. Covenant meetings were occasionally held for discipline, but no evidence is given of stated preaching. At this time, however, there was " a manifest disposition to return to the Lord, from whom they had wandered."

A frame chapel was erected, and opened on the 27th day of December, 1836. Elder Landon preached the dedication sermon, from Psalm 27, verse 4. The meetings were continued eleven days, and "the Lord poured out His spirit in a wonderful manner—saints were revived and souls converted."

January 1st, 1837, a large number were baptised, including the names of W. and E. Pavey, Julius Perry, James, Jacob and Mary Topping, Mary Perry, D. Luddington and others.

At the covenant meeting January 28th, 1837, Almon Tree and Huldah Tree presented letters from Rushford and Lyndon, N. York, and Belinda Landon, T. Mathews, Chester Withy, Pamela Luddington and Frances Waterbury received the hand of fellowship; and at the close of the meeting it was voted: "That five dollars shall be paid out of the common funds of the church to Master Henry Burtch; upon the condition that he make all the necessary fires, in proper season, for all the meetings of the church, and keeping the house swept, until the first of January, 1838."

The record fails to tell if the money was paid or the conditions complied with. Nor does it say that the rebellion of that year interfered with the fulfillment of the duties. The party named has no recollection of spending the stipend mentioned, hence it is unlikely that he carried out the contract.

February 25, 1837, R. H. Burtch and Elijah Tree were baptised by elder Landon. James Guild and William Burtch, March 3rd.

At the April covenant meeting, a resolution was passed to "make a subscription for the temporal support of Elder Landon for the coming year."

August 28th an effort was made with the Eastern Baptist Association to hold a general convention of Baptists at Townsend, to meet the third Wednesday in September. Elder Landon and Deacon Burtch to be delegates, with authority to "support an association, without infringing on the rights of individual churches." Here we observe the indication of sturdy, Baptist independence.

E. Topping and Philip Mitchell were appointed deacons on the 30th of Sept.

There is no record for 1839.

May 30th, 1840, E. Topping, A. Burtch, G. Blake, J. Letts and Elder Landon were elected delegates to the association to be held at Waterford.

On the 25th of July the delegation reported to the church in favor of withdrawal from the association, which was accordingly done, but no reason is assigned for such withdrawal.

May 30th, 1841, Elder Landon was appointed a delegate to Haldimand for the purpose of "meeting the ministers of the denomination," and August the 27th it was ordered that a collection be taken up next day to defray the expenses of said delegate. At the same meeting R. H. Burtch was elected church clerk and in the month of October treasurer also.

Sept. 25th, 1841, it was "voted that there be no invitations on communion occasions hereafter, until a final adjustment of the question."

On the 29th of January, 1842, it was moved by G. Blake, seconded by A. Burtch, That the communion question be settled—that the communion be restricted to baptised believers" carried without a dissenting voice. Thus a question which no doubt had led to many dissensions arid frequent discussions was unanimously set at rest and the church came more into harmony with the practice of the regular Baptist churches of the Province, now rapidly increasing.

CHAPTER III.

Elder Landon Resigned—Call to Rev. Mr. Bosworth—Short Pastorate—Objections to Women Speaking in Public—His Resignation—A Call to Elder Landon not Accepted—Elder Topping Accepted a Call to the Pastorate—His Resignation.

Elder Landon, whose connection with the church had been long and profitable, resigned July 31st, 1842. It was then resolved to extend a call to the Rev. Mr. Bosworth. The call was accepted and he became the pastor of the church. Rev. Mr. Landon shortly after applied for a letter which was granted. Feb. 25, 1843, Rev. Mr. Bosworth and wife presented their letters and were received. At the same meeting an application was made by letter by the Brantford church for assistance in money, but no action was taken. It appears that even in the "good old days of yore" churches were not entirely free from some of the evils so prevalent at the present time.

At the April business meeting in 1844 we learn that the Rev. N. Bosworth "gave a statement of the pecuniary affairs of the church," when it was agreed that the "Deacons collect subscriptions." August 31st, 1844, Elizabeth Laycock was admitted as a candidate for baptism. At a subsequent meeting brethren John Muir, T. Letts, W. Pavey, A. Burtch and P. Mitchell were appointed a committee to visit delinquent members and cite them to the first covenant meeting.

This same matter has always been a trouble to the church officers throughout its history and we may be sure that it is not peculiar to this church. But in the early days we learn that the covenant meeting was looked upon as the true test of discipleship. One might absent himself from the communion on Sabbath and nothing said, but if absent from the covenant meeting twice in succession he was at once cited to appear at the next, and if he could not give a sufficient reason for absence he was warned that he would be labored with, and many were excluded for non-attendance. Others who attended and failed to "acknowledge their covenant," were likewise dealt with.

At the monthly meeting held November 30th it was agreed that a prayer meeting be held at the house of Deacon Burtch " for the prosperity of the church."

The following monthly meeting was one of more than usual interest. The pastor, Mr. Bosworth, stated that from an examination of the Scriptures, it was his opinion that it was not scriptural for females to speak in public meetings, therefore, he felt it his duty on account of his difference of opinion with the church to tender his resignation as pastor. He left with the statement that "he would return to the meeting if required." The Rev. E. Topping was at once called to the chair— When it was moved by G. Blake seconded by J. Muir "That both males and females give their opinion on the subject." A lengthened discussion took place resulting in resolutions being passed as follows :

Resolved 1st "That we cannot perceive passages of Scripture in the Bible to prohibit females from speaking and praying in common with the males in public meetings."

Resolved 2nd "That we respectfully receive the resignation of Mr. Bosworth as pastor of this church, but cordially invite him to preach for us as long as he is at liberty or until the church can obtain another pastor—pledging ourselves to contribute as formerly."—Carried by a large majority.

At the monthly meeting in May the Rev. N. Bosworth applied for letters of dismissal for himself and wife which were granted.

Thus ended a two years' pastorate of a man whom we are assured was a scholar and a gentleman, as well as a pious and eloquent preacher. His cultured and student habits seemed to have unfitted him for the rural, uncultured state of society, which necessarily existed at that early period. It is natural to suppose that a people accustomed to the burning and stirring but homely and practical preaching of such evangelists as Tallman, Cross, Harris, Marks, and Landon, could not so readily appreciate the highly cultured and scholastic learning as it is said this pastor manifested in his discourses.

It is true that Mr. Landon had, in a measure, introduced a style of preaching both learned and exalting, acquired by diligent self culture and intense study, but Mr. Bosworth seemed to have been in advance of the environment of the times and circumstances which he had fallen into in this new world.

On the 31st of May, 1845, "a unanimous call" was tendered to Rev. W. H. Landon, to again become the pastor of the church, but it was not accepted.

Deacon Letts and wife who were among the very earliest settlers of Zorra as well as members of this church received letters of dismissal, Aug. 25th, on their leaving this country for the States.

A committee was appointed to procure a pastor, and on the 27th of December, they reported "That as the Rev. E. Topping had officiated as pastor for about nine months he be now called to the pastoral care of the church." No objections were raised. On the following day Mr. Topping accepted the charge.

This union only continued till the August meeting, 1846, when we find that "the Rev. E. Topping resigned the pastoral care of the church."

At the September meeting a resolution was unanimously passed, again calling the Rev. Mr. Landon to assume the duties of pastor.

On the 30th of January, 1847, it was agreed that a tea meeting should be held in the chapel on the 25th of February and the proceeds thereof applied to repairing the chapel, Rev. Mr. Landon, M. L. Green, Geo. Midgley and R. H. Burtch to be the committee of management and subsequently "spend the money as they think proper on the chapel."

On the 28th of March another advance step was taken, viz:

"That the seats be allotted and the persons choosing a seat pay what they think proper for one year".

Bro. John Hatch and C. C. Carryer were baptized April 25th and received the hand of fellowship as members of the church.

An adjourned church meeting was held on the 14th of October, 1847, when a series of resolutions was passed having reference to the progress and welfare of the church, and among them was one to appoint a sexton permanently and empower him to charge 10 shillings for digging each grave, retaining 7s. 6 pence for his own services and paying the balance to the treasurer to form a fund to keep the grounds in repair; "That a collection be taken up every Sabbath for contingent expenses;" "That this church cannot consider any person a member of it who does not under ordinary circumstances meet with it at least every Sabbath."

The burying ground was on an opposite lot on the west side of Chapel street as well as on the chapel lot.

CHAPTER IV.

Discouraging Times—Reorganization—Elder Landon Again Resigns—Elder Winterbotham—Regular Baptist Principles—Grand River Association - Clergy Reserves - Elder Winterbotham Resigns.

It is evident from the experience of this church, and probably of all others, that members cannot be made pious, prayerful, or live consistent Christians by passing resolutions at church meetings any more than by act of parliament.

"As it was in the beginning is now and ever shall be," unless the grace of God reigns in the heart religious efforts and Christian duties will simply be perfunctory and spasmodic. Love for Christ and obedience to His commands, deeply rooted in the heart, will result in perseverance and constancy when all else fail.

Such was found to be the case in this church, and to such an extent at this period we find that practically a new organization took place in the beginning of the year 1848, when a new covenant was entered into and only those pledging themselves to faithfully adhere to its provisions were invited or permitted to subscribe to it. The provision of the articles and covenant were such as the church by their experience had then attained to and to which the following names were subscribed at this meeting, the 27th of January, 1848, viz:—A. Burtch, Deacon, Daniel Burtch, J. Hatch, R. Martin, H. Dibble, G. Blake, (Deacon), J. McColl, C. Baguley, Ann Jackman, Elizabeth Thompson, John McColl, N. Bartley, D. Thompson, Jane Burtch, E. Landon, E. Laycock, Janet Hay, Mary Mitchell, Mary Barnes, James Guild, Laura Burtch, Hannah Blake, M. A. Hatch, C. C. Carryer.

By the end of the year the number reached thirty—23 of the former members, one by baptism and one by letter.

Mr. Landon again tendered his resignation in January, 1840, but was induced to remain. The church appears to have had severe struggles at this period. The matter of finance was repeatedly up for discussion. In September of that year we find a series of resolutions and urgent appeals to the little band for help, and at the same time urging Mr. Landon to remain as their pastor.

From the last date to the 4th of May, 1851, there is no record; but at this meeting we learn that Messrs. Winterbotham, A. Burtch and James Martin were appointed a committee "to draft a letter of application and an epitome of our principles, preparatory to their being presented to the Grand River Association to be laid before the next church meeting." (Sgd.) James Martin, assistant church clerk.

Thus the new pastor, Elder Winterbotham, and the new clerk, John Hatch, and assistant clerk James Martin, are suddenly introduced without a record of how or when, but the fact was already being felt and the influence of the sturdy old Baptist pastor is manifest in the letter prepared and presented for the church's adoption at a meeting held May 31st, 1851.

It would be interesting to copy the whole document but a few points of information must suffice. (1) "We hold the sacred Scriptures to be the only rule of faith and practice." (2) We only commune in the Lord's supper with those who have been immersed in the divine name, who give evidence of re-generation by walking in newness of life. We require unanimity in receiving persons to fellowship and in all acts of church discipline, such as public rebuke and exclusion. (3) We have enjoyed peace and steady progress since the reorganization of the church on regular Baptist principles on the 2nd day of January, 1848. Our number now is sixty-six." (4) "We have a Sabbath school, Bible class and auxiliary missionary society for the benefit of the inhabitants of the town." This lengthy document was dated 31st of May, 1851, and the following delegates appointed to present it to the "Grand River Association," viz: Pastor Winterbotham, Deacons Burtch and Blake and Brethren J. Martin, L. Green, J. Hatch, R. Kipp, J. Goble, J. Hoile, R. H. Burtch and M. Green with power to withhold the letter should circumstances dictate."

It seems that such circumstances did arise, for we find that a committee was appointed by the association to meet a committee from the church to discuss some vital question at issue. The committee appointed by the church at a subsequent meeting was the Pastor, Deacon Goble, Hatch, Martin and Hoile, and it was decided to hold a public meeting in the evening.

Aug. 31st, 1851, it was resolved "That the printed circular from Toronto purporting to call a meeting at Hamilton on the first Wednesday in October next, in support of the course of religious equality be approved, and Mr. Winterbotham return :an answer accordingly.

At a church meeting held on the 4th of October, 1851, it was moved by Brother McColl, seconded by Brother Blake, "That the statement of the stand taken by the church, in reference to the matters at issue between it and the association, be published in The Observer."

A lengthy document is here inserted in the minutes, which sets forth the discussion and decision of the committee of the association, which decided, by three to two, against the reception of the church into the association. The only objection seems to be that the association held that the ordinances of the church should only be administered, in any case, by one who had been regularly ordained, by other ministers also regularly ordained. The church held that this rule, while desirable, was not always practicable; and decided that no amended application should be made to the association.

Among the additions mentioned here are those of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent, dismissed by letter from the Peterborough Church.

Resolutions were passed to raise the pastor's salary $50 for the ensuing year—but no mention is made of the total sum. (2). To take up subscriptions to liquidate the debt incurred for incidental expenses. (3). To take steps to erect a shed for protecting the horses.

The year 1852 began with the purchase of a new pulpit Bible from George Barnes, at the price of 22s 6d.

At the February meeting Robert and Mary Barbour were admitted, on condition "that they receive their letters from Montreal." William Winter and wife and daughter Mary were received by letter from the Pickering Church. " At the following monthly meeting it was:

Resolved, " That Bro. W. Winter sustain his former office, and be acknowledged as a deacon of this church."

On July 31st. Mr. Winterbotham was authorised to obtain a minister, during the ensuing month, to preach a sermon and take up a collection for the benefit of the colored church in the Town of Woodstock."

That Bro. H. Ford be appointed to the Burford station, to preach as often as convenient. That Mr. Winterbotham be requested to continue the pastoral charge another year, from the 20th of September.

On the 28th day of August the following very suggestive resolution was passed:

Resolved, " That whereas the appearance of the small interest the government is taking in the all important questions of the Clergy Reserves and religious state endowments, we consider it our duty, at the present juncture, to call the attention of parliament to the same by petition; and we do hereby authorize our Pastor and Deacons to make out and sign the same in our behalf, as a church, and forward it without delay."

January 29th, 1853, E. Topping was received by letter, Mrs. Topping by profession, and R. W. Sawtell as a candidate for baptism—on the following day. The next few meetings witnessed large accessions by baptism and profession, and the first indication of preparation for erecting a new church was at the May meeting, when a "site committee" was appointed, consisting of the trustees and Deacon Winter".

This, also, is the first mention of trustees, and the names are not given:

July 30th we find the following resolution recorded: Resolved, That we receive Mr. Winterbotham's resignation with regret on our part, and sorrowful sympathy for such a step on his part," etc. It is gathered from the lengthy resolution that some affliction of great sadness had been experienced, which necessitated his removal, and which the church very much regretted.

A committee consisting of Mr. Landon, Deacons Winter, Goble, Burtch and Martin, were named to look for a successor to Mr. Winterbotham.

"Messrs. Winterbotham, Topping and Winter to be delegates to the convention, to be held at Burford on the first of September; and a prayer meeting be held for said purpose."

The following resolutions were passed at the next few meetings in the year, viz.:

"That we pay each preacher for a Sabbath sermon one pound"; "That Messrs. Landon, Topping, Burtch, Winter and Martin be a committee to supply the pulpit till we get a pastor "; " That C. C. Carryer be clerk of the pecuniary affairs of the church " ; "That this church consider it necessary that steps be forthwith taken to erect a new chapel for public worship." The committee appointed to procure plans and carry on this work was composed as follows :—W. H. Landon, Deacons Winter, Hatch and Martin, and J. McColl, C. C, Carryer and R. Barbour.

At the first meeting held in 1854, January 10th, the determination to build was confirmed and a committee appointed to procure subscriptions ; " that they be paid in four instalments; and when £700 shall have been subscribed, the committee to proceed with the erection of the building." A heading for the list was drawn up and then approved.

Mr. Landon was authorised, at the next church meeting, to write to Elder Dempsey at St. Andrews, with a view to a call to him as pastor.

At this meeting the site committee reported that they had examined several lots and preferred the one on the corner of Beale and Adelaide streets ; but then it was not in the market. They would not recommend any less than 75 feet frontage, and that a corner lot, also.

March 25th it was resolved to appropriate the communion collections to a poor fund.

There seems to have been a question as to removal from the old site on Chapel street, and it was decided to meet on the 5th of April and ballot for a decision. Mrs. Landon and Mrs. H. T. Burtch were appointed scrutineers, and the ballot was a tie. It was decided, after a season of prayer, to cast lots for the final decision; when it resulted in favor of removal, and thus a vexed question was satisfactorily settled.

Elder Topping and R. H. Burtch were added to the site committee.

CHAPTER V.

1854 - 1858

Call to Rev. J. Cooper—Denominational Organs—Erection of a New Church—Sale of the Old—Another Effort to Enter the Association—Baptist Academy—Canadian Literary Institute—Organization.

April 16 it was moved by Deacon Winter, seconded by R. W. Sawtell :

"That Rev. James Cooper be. invited to take the pastoral charge of this church; that the salary be one hundred pounds per annum; that a subscription list be circulated forthwith."

At the same meeting Mr. Winter was authorised to attend Hatch's sale of lots; but not bid more than eight and one half dollars per foot, for a suitable site for the church.

Peter and Duncan Campbell were received for baptism, and William Nasmyth and Mrs. Morley by letter; Arthur Miller and George Duncan by baptism, and others during the summer of 1854; and at the November meeting Deacon Winter and wife, R. W. Sawtell and wife, received letters to unite with the Brantford Church.

A reference might be permitted here, in regard to establishing a denominational paper: For a long time there had not been a medium of communication by a paper of its own. "The Observer" and others had ceased to exist. Mr. Winter had laid the matter to heart, and some time previously pledged himself privately, "that the first sum of considerable importance which came to him in any business transaction he would devote to starting a denominational paper."

After settling in East Zorra two years before, he thought he would have an interest in Woodstock, and purchased a lot from Deacon Burtch for $300 (and subsequently many others, at boom prices, caused by the Crimean war, and the building of the G. W. R.) and, not long after, the Woodstock and Lake Erie R. R. Co. gave him about $4,000 for the same; thus his request was granted, and he immediately proceeded to carry out his vow. The result was the establishment of "The Christian Messenger" in Brantford—with Rev. T. L. Davidson as editor and R. W. Sawtell sub-editor and office manager, the first copy of which was printed the 1st of October, 1854.

"The Messenger" was subsequently sold to Dr. Fyfe, renamed " The Canadian Baptist," and is still the organ of the denomination. As this paper has wielded such an influence, and particularly in the educational policy with which this church, through the location of the college here, has been so interested, this digression will not be deemed out of place.

November 25th, 1854, Deacon Blake resigned the trusteeship and Elder Topping was appointed in his place.

January 5th, 1855, "The Home Missionary Society of Canada " is first mentioned, and it was decided to take up a collection in its favor.

George Duncan preached his first sermon before the church and was granted a license to preach. He soon became well known as such, and was called to the pastorate of the Hamilton Church; but died soon thereafter, quite young, and greatly lamented.

May 26th it was decided, by the casting vote of the pastor, not to make application for admission into the association, or send delegates thereto. At the following meeting in June, it was moved by W. H. Landon, seconded by Deacon A. Burtch, and resolved, That the following clause be inserted in the church deed: " Holding and teaching the doctrines generally held by evangelical churches, and also the baptism of adult believers, in the name of the Holy Trinity, as the only Christian baptism in water, and the administration of the ordinance of the Lord's Supper to persons who have been so baptised only."

September 29th the higher education question is first introduced, and a resolution passed authorising Messrs. Cooper, Topping, Burtch and Martin " to examine the constitution of Maclay College, and point out those articles necessary to be amended."

November 24th the following resolutions were passed:

1. "That Elder Cooper's travelling expenses to St. Catharines, to attend the missionary meeting held there the last of the month, be paid."
2. "That the new chapel be opened at Christmas and Sabbath previous."

Several committees were appointed for various purposes in connection with said dedication.

- December 29, 1855, another long list of resolutions were passed :
- " That the seats be rented."
  - "That door keepers show strangers to any vacant seats after the unlet ones are filled."
  - "That the price of the pews be £5, £4, £3 and £2 and the price of a single sitting one-fourth the price of a whole seat."

4. "The committee to take charge of this work."
5. "That the trustees be empowered to insure the chapel for £1,500."
6. "That the report of the finances of the building committee be laid before next church meeting."
7. "That George Duncan have a letter of dismission."
8. "That Elders Cooper, Landon and Topping attend the council at Hamilton to ordain Bro. Duncan."

The minutes furnish no description of the new building but very many remember it as it stood where the present church now stands, and a lithograph of which hangs in many of the older members' houses with the difference that the spire was never completed. The building was of Gothic design, and considered very beautiful in appearance; but, like many other buildings of that day, it was placed too low in the ground, making the basement too damp and dark for Sunday school and other purposes.

There was a great deal of trouble about the site, there being some shadow upon the title, and another site was purchased on Bay street and had to be disposed of after finally deciding on the present one, corner of Beale and Adelaide streets. There are several resolutions, subsequently, instructing the trustees to complete the spire but it was never done, it being held that the tower was not equal to the strain that would be put upon it.

The old chapel and site were sold to Mr. Mills and a resolution passed February 4th, 1856, confirming the sale and providing for removing the dead buried on the lot. The chapel was subsequently moved to the grounds of old St. Paul's church and used for a school room till a few years ago when it was destroyed by fire. At the same meeting the trustees were instructed to sell the Bay street lot for not less than £300.

May 31st a constitution was adopted governing the proceedings of the "Woodstock Baptist Missionary Society."

Rev. J. Cooper, Rev. W. H. Landon, A. Miller, J. Hatch and J. Martin were appointed delegates to the Grand River Association, to be held at Brantford June 13th, with instructions as follows:

"That this church reserve to itself as an independent church of Christ the privilege of disciplining its own members, settling its own ministers and regulating its own terms of communion as now practiced among us, notwithstanding any previous acts or resolves of said association.

At the following church meeting, June 4th, the draft of the letter to the association being read, it was resolved "That the instructions passed by resolution at the last meeting be expunged and that the delegates leave the question in abeyance, unless the association introduce it." The statistics were: received by letter 15, by baptism 15, dismissed 1, died 1, total in good standing 109.

June 28, 1856, the following resolutions were passed, viz.:

1. "That Mr. Cooper's salary be raised £25 for the present year."
2. "That John Midgley receive a recommendation to exercise his talent wherever he may be called."
3. "That the said John Midgley have his seat free."
4. "That the following report of the delegates to the G. R. Association be adopted."

The report is too long to be repeated here, but the purport is: That the delegates were questioned very closely on the subject of communion and the practice of the church; and in their answers the delegates disagreed. A. Miller claimed "the privilege of communing when and with whom he might choose." This led to a very sharp discussion and the result was that the church was not admitted into the association; but it was recommended that the application be laid over till the next association, and that the church be respectfully requested to call a council to discuss the whole question, and formally recognize it, in the meantime.

5. "That this church does not approve of its members communing with churches of other denominations."
6. "That Bro. Miller's confession be accepted as satisfactory."

The first reference to the "Baptist Academy" being likely to be located here, appears in the minutes of the church meeting held February 28, 1857, when it was resolved, "That we, as a Close Communion Baptist church, consider ourselves as part and parcel of, and in communion with, the Regular Baptists of this Province."

At the same meeting it was decided to discontinue the seat renting system, and adopt the voluntary subscription plan—but to allot the seats to subscribers.

April 25 it was resolved, "That we have always, as a church, considered it unscriptural for any member to administer the ordinance of Baptism, or the Lord's Supper, except those who have been ordained to the work of the ministry; and anyone doing so is liable to church discipline."

May 10th, 1857, after the morning service the members were requested to remain, to consider the question of calling a council of recognition. Mr. Topping reported that the committee appointed to solicit subscriptions to the fund for the erection of the Literary Institute, "found it difficult to prevail, on account of the position of the Woodstock Church, it being unconnected with the association as a Regular Baptist Church. He therefore moved, seconded by Deacon Burtch, " That a council be called. It was moved in amendment by Elder Landon, seconded by A. Miller, " That a meeting be held on the following Tuesday to decide the matter." The amendment carried.

The meeting was held, as per adjournment, when it was unanimously decided to call a council, and the following were appointed delegates, viz.: Revs. J. Cooper, E. Topping, and Deacons Burtch and Hatch.

If a council of recognition was convened here there is no minute of such.

May 30, 1837, it was resolved, "That this church make application to the " Grand River Association South " for admission, and that Messrs. Cooper, Topping, Burtch, Hatch and Sawtell be our delegates to the same."

June 26, 1857 The delegates to the association, which was held at Harris street, reported that " this church was cordially and unanimously admitted into the association."

At this meeting a resolution was passed condemning the action of one of our unordained members, he having administered the ordinance of baptism, and warned not to do so again.

Sept 6th. The church discussed the question of singing; after which " Mrs. Landon was appointed to take the lead of the female department," and " R. H. Burtch and W. Nasmyth the male department, with power to add to their number." This is the first official appointment of this nature referred to.

Another reference of still greater importance to this church, and to the whole denomination, is this: "That as Mr. Fyfe, of Toronto, has leave of absence, and as he has consented to stay throughout the week, be it therefore—"Resolved that a series of meetings be held in the basement every evening, at half-past seven o'clock, and that brethren sustain such meetings by their presence and prayers."

From this time forward the question of Baptist ministerial education became so closely connected with this church, that the origin of the movement should find a place here. The denomination had established Montreal college, and, for want of funds, and a general sympathy in its management, it had died. A project had also been started to establish what was to be called Maclay college, and that never found even a commencement.

The establishment of "The Christian Messenger" gave opportunity for the expression of matters of denominational interest, and the question of education was one of the most prominent, and frequently referred to. In "The Messenger" of December 13th, 1855, a " Proposal," over the signature of "F"—written, no doubt, by Dr. Fyfe—and from which the project of an academy, such as the Woodstock school became, was advocated. The agitation was continued, through that medium and otherwise, until it was finally adopted.

It was decided by the preliminary committee that the location should not be east of St. Catharines or west of London, and the place which made the best offer in regard to the erection of buildings should be chosen. The only places which tendered were: Fonthill, Brantford and Woodstock. The latter offered more than twice as much as Brantford, guaranteeing $16,000, including the value of the site, and Woodstock was chosen.

The first meeting of subscribers was held in the church on the 18th of March, 1857. William Winter was elected chairman, and R. W. Sawtell, secretary.

A constitution and by-law previously prepared were discussed and adopted. The following were the first trustees, viz: A. Burtch, E. Topping, J. Hatch, A. Carroll, J. Kintrea, J. Charles, W. Winter, T. L. Davidson, R. A. Fyfe, H. J. Barber, W. Wilkinson, O. Mabee, R. Kilborn, R. Baker, E. V. Bodwell. W. Winter was elected president, J. Hatch vice-president, James Kintrea treasurer, and E. V. Bodwell secretary.

On the 23rd of June the corner stone of the first building was laid. Deacon Burtch had the honor of that duty. Addresses were made by W. Winter, Revs. R. A. Fyfe, T. L. Davidson and W. Wilkinson. E. V. Bodwell, George Alexander and Rev. Dr. Ryerson, chief superintendent of education. Thus the foundation of an enterprise was then laid which has had a direct influence on this church and a mighty power in molding and building up the denomination throughout the province, as well as establishing and carrying on the grand missionary work in India and the Home Mission work in Canada. The pew rent system was still unsettled, for we find that at the church meeting held 27th of November a resolution appointing R. W. Sawtell, F. Scofield and Peter Campbell, a committee "to appraise and regulate the seat rents, and report at our anniversary,"

"That we have anniversary services. That Pastor Cooper and E. Topping be a committee to invite speakers, and the ladies have the sole power to arrange the festival and appoint their own committees." No further mention of the "festival" is made ; but it took place, was well attended and successful.

On the 27th of December Elder Cooper's heart was made glad by the acceptance of his son, George, as a fit candidate for baptism. Morris Dawes was also received.

January 3rd, 1858, Deacon Burtch and Brother Shanks were appointed to visit members absenting themselves from the communion and other services.

The same question of delinquency was still before the church; but it is noticed that it is shifted from "the covenant meeting " to the "communion service"—showing that the meetings, for so many years considered the all-important, now became only secondary. At this same meeting the question of "alteration in our church meetings and ordinance day was up for discussion and postponed to next regular meeting."

Messrs. Laycock, Nasmyth, Carryer and Luck were appointed a committee "to devise means to refund money advanced by the treasurer."

On the 30th of January it was resolved, " That the monthly church meetings be held on the Friday previous to the first Sabbath of every month, at 2.30 p. m., and that all pecuniary matters be taken up at the close of the religious exercise "That a donation visit be made to Mr. Cooper, at his house, on Monday, the 8th of February."

CHAPTER VI.

Financial Pressure—Finance Committee Appointed—Election of Deacons—The Chapel on Fire—Question of Privilege—Opening of the C. L. I, Dr. Fyfe Principal—Prince of Wales' Visit—Burning of the Institute.

The question of finances was a pressing one at this period. The collapse after the Crimean war was severely felt, and as a consequence church finances suffered also. At the March meeting the Finance committee reported as follows: "From ladies association $50, building fund $16, pastor's subscription $8, incidental $2, and as nothing farther at present can be collected from the building list that a number of the members sign a note for £50 to relieve present needs," &c. The report which is long and relates to the difficulties under which they had labored, and suggesting that it was the duty of every one to do all they could, was adopted.

Brother and Sister Pavey requested letters of dismissal to join the Free Will Baptist church organized in their neighborhood, which was granted under the circumstances referred to.

April 2nd, 1858, a committee reported on the continued absence and removal of a number of members and recommended dropping their names from the church roll. Report adopted.

W. Nasmyth, H. T. Burtch and D. Campbell were appointed to assist the deacons collect for church funds.

W. Nasmyth appointed financial secretary in the room of C. C. Carryer, resigned.

April 30th, Rev. George Silver, wife and mother, were received by letter from the Peekskill Baptist church, United States, and a number of candidates for baptism.

The trustees were authorized to borrow from the Trust and Loan Company, by mortgage on the church property.

June 4th, Elders Cooper and Topping, brethren A. Burtch, J. Hatch, R H. Burtch and J. Peddie were elected delegates to the Grand River Association South.

July 2nd, the same delegates were appointed to sit in council with the church in Ingersoll which sat last spring, viz: Revs. J. Cooper, E. Topping and Deacon Burtch, with Rev. G. Silver added.

"That Mrs. Burtch, Silver, Lamport and Hatch be a committee of ladies to collect subscription to make up the deficit in the pastor's salary.

"That D. Campbell circulate a list to raise money to pay for attending and cleaning the chapel.

This was the continual experience, little money moving and a severe trial to get enough to pay current expenses. Not a meeting passing free from financial embarrassments.

November 5th, it was resolved "That those absent members written to and who have not answered be dropped from our books as members."

"That R. H. Burtch, H. T. Burtch and S. Pocock be a committee to erect a shed—if it can be accomplished with little or no expense."

"That the church meetings be changed from Friday afternoon to Saturday afternoon for religious exercises only, and special meetings for business called when needed."

January 13th, 1859, it was resolved:

- (1) "That Elder Cooper and Bro. Midgley be our delegates to the Nissouri council to organize a church in the Vining settlement."
- (2) "That Brethren Topping, Nasmyth, Lamport and Martin be appointed to draw out a report of the best mode of liquidating our debts."
- (3) "That Brethren Nasmyth and Sawtell be committee to arrange for better church music, with power to add to their number."

Messrs. Topping, Blake and Hatch were appointed to collect for the missionary convention.

The church seems to have been passing through financial troubles at this time. All manner of means and modes were adopted to collect funds, but no one seems to have been able. Mr. Cooper's little salary was in arrears to the amount of $340, and he was taking all kinds of produce in pay. It was only by the utmost economy that he was enabled to maintain his family and give them an education.

The hardness of the times gave rise to the appointment of a financial committee. We find that on February 17th, 1859, the auditor's report was received and adopted; that the report of the financial committee be adopted and, brethren Hatch, Topping, Lamport and J. Muir appointed to carry out its suggestions. "That a social tea meeting be held in the basement on the evening of the second Thursday in March, and a free-will offering be taken to assist in paying off the $260 arrears due the pastor. That Mrs. Burtch and Mrs. Lamport be a committee to make arrangements for said social."

Monday evening, February 21st, an adjourned church meeting was held for the purpose of discussing the question of election of deacons and deciding the method. It was finally agreed that the pastor preach a special sermon referring to the qualifications required in the office of Deacon. After the service open nominations be made, and two weeks thereafter elected by ballot."

On Sabbath, March 6th, after communion the following were nominated: H. Lamport, F. Scofield, T. Clifford, E. Topping, C. C. Carryer, R. W. Sawtell, G. Luck.

R. W. Sawtell was appointed secretary of the social committee, and a committee of four brethren "to receive and value the gifts."

An opportunity was given to those who did not wish to serve as deacon if elected to decline, when R. W. Sawtell, F. Schofield and G. Luck asked to be allowed to retire, which was granted.

On March 20th the meeting was held to decide by ballot the choice for deacons, when it was resolved "That as Bro. Topping had already been a Deacon of his church and ordained thereto that he be recognised by a vote of this church as one of its Deacons.—Carried. C. C. Carryer and T. Clifford refused to be balloted for and only H. Lamport was left and he was declared elected.

April 13th the trustees were instructed to reconvey the Bay St. lot back to the Hatch estate, if requested and found necessary.

May 15th Messrs. Cooper, Burtch, Topping, Sawtell and Midgley were appointed delegates to the association.

A resolution was passed requesting W. M. Mills to delay removing the dead from the old grave yard, till the trustees had notified all the friends of such removal.

W. Nasmyth's resignation as leader of the singing was accepted, and R. H. Burtch, J. Martin and the pastor appointed to arrange for a leader.

July 14th E. Topping and A. Burtch were appointed a committee to visit the Burford and Blenheim friends and collect funds for the pastor's salary. That the discussion on the pastor's salary be adjourned to a special meeting, when all the friends of the congregation shall be invited to attend. That Pastor Cooper and Elder Topping visit several members who have long absented themselves from communion and fellowship of the church.

A special meeting was held July 21st when, on motion of W. J. Copp, one large committee was appointed for the town, and a smaller one for the county, to canvass for subscriptions, "to be paid quarterly, to make up deficiencies in the pastor's salary."

Delegates were appointed, September 8th, to attend a council at Springford, to ordain Mr. Mudge to the work of the ministry.

It appears from the record that a number, whose names are given, had absented themselves from church privileges for some time, and at this meeting asked for letters of dismissal on the ground that some of the members "were destitute of Christian character" ; and without making specific charges. After fully discussing the matter it was Resolved,

" That it would be inconsistent with church order to grant letters under such circumstances. If the charges were true, our letters would be valueless ; and if untrue, they greatly err in asking letters on a false foundation. Meantime we drop their names from the church roll."

November 10th, 1859, a committee, which had for a long period been negotiating a settlement with Mr. Mills in regard to the old burying ground, reported at this meeting that no arrangement could be come to, hence they would recommend that they advertise in The Sentinel, notifying all parties having dead buried therein to remove the same by the 1st of December, and that Deacons Burtch and Lamport be a committee to assist such parties."

Sabbath day, January 1st, 1860, application was made by Brother and Sister Pavey, by letter, to unite with this church; also their daughter Belinda, all from East Zorra Church.

On the following Sabbath, January 8th, this record appears: " In the time of worship our chapel took fire, and after considerable exertion by all the people, the flames were extinguished. The following committee was then and there appointed to see the damages repaired, viz : Deacon Hatch, E. Topping, W. J. Copp, H. T. Burtch and Deacon Burtch.

The fire originated in the floor, from overheating, it being a very cold day; and was extinguished largely with snow, carried in by those present, and the damages were not extensive.

February 14th a special meeting was held for the purpose of discussing a question of privilege. It appears that one of the deacons (Lamport) had, in his zeal, invited Elder George Wilson, then a noted evangelist, to come and carry on special services. He, having accepted the invitation, took full possession of the work and so thoroughly ignored the pastor, and introduced methods which Mr. Cooper and many of the brethren could not endorse; hence this meeting was called to correct the error.

E. Topping was appointed chairman, and R. W. Sawtell secretary.

Mr. Cooper was called upon for a statement of the case; after which Deacon Lamport said that if he had done wrong he was sorry for it, as he intended neither wrong or insult to anyone.

Elder Wilson, being present, explained his position, and was fully exonerated from blame.

On Motion of R. W. Sawtell, seconded by Bro. Carryer, the following resolution was passed:
"That this church discountenances and condemns any effort of, or influence used, by any member or members to introduce any minister or layman with a view to assist or supercede the efforts of the pastor of this church, for the time being, without the concurrence of the pastor and church."

A vote of sympathy with the pastor, and entire confidence in his labors, was passed and tendered to Elder Cooper.

April 5th many old troubles were brought up and discussed:

1. In reference to settling with Mr. Mills about the grave yard.
2. Refusing letters of dismission to embarrassed debtors.
3. Financial shortage.
4. Appointing a committee to classify, and present at next meeting a list of non-members.
6. That any member absenting himself or herself from communion on three consecutive Sabbaths, be visited and be liable to church discipline, if without valid excuse.

It is evident from the minutes of the meetings held in this particular period of the church's history that the question of close communion was bearing heavily on many of the formerly active members. While very few practised communing with Pede-Baptist churches, they could not brook the dictation and withdrew, largely, from active work in the church. Many names were dropped, and some few were excluded; thus to ensure the fullest concurrence to the practice of a "Regular Baptist Church." Many of such have since returned and became both active and consistent members.

May 24th, 1860, the pastor, E. Topping, and J. Martin were appointed to write the circular letter, Messrs. Cooper, Topping, Burtch, Lamport and George Cooper were appointed delegates to the association, with power to invite it to meet here in 1861.

This was an eventful year to the Baptists of Ontario and especially to the Woodstock church. Since the meeting held on the 18th of March, 1857, the Canadian Literary Institute had been erected, and, by toils and sacrifices—which would require a volume to relate—the building had been equipped, and made ready for opening, Dr. Fyfe chosen principal, with Rev. W. Stewart, Mr. Hankinson, Miss Brigham and Miss Vining, teachers. This was a small staff and the salaries promised were equally small; but they entered upon the work with loving hearts and active brains. The coming to this town of a band of teachers and an indefinite number of students, many of whom had and would devote their talents to God's service, meant new ideas and new work for the church.

One of the first things Dr. Fyfe was called upon to do was to read an address, from the trustees of the Institute, to the Prince of Wales, who was then making a tour on this continent, and who was entertained on Cottle's Grove. Many addresses were read; and probably the most attractive was the one read by Mr. Fyfe. He was then one of the handsomest of men, and called forth the remark from the Prince: that "he was the finest specimen of man he had met."

The school opened in July, had two sessions that fall, and closed in December with increasing prospects for the new year— 1861; but, on the night preceding its opening, the whole structure was laid in ruins by fire. It is not the intention of this sketch to embrace that of the college also, but the interests of the church have been so involved with the college that we cannot ignore some of its more important events, and this is one of them.

The blotting out of the school would naturally withdraw life, numbers and activity from the church; but its rebuilding would mean additional financial burdens. The latter prevailed, but was cheerfully accepted, and resulted in greater prosperity, both in educational work and church extension. Thus an apparently disastrous fire, in the providence of God, united the denomination in sympathy and support in the cause of higher and ministerial education.

CHAPTER VII.

Stringent Times Still—Trouble Satisfactorily Settled—Elder Cooper's Resignation Not Acceptable—Subsequently Accepted—Dk. Fyfe and Rev. W. Stewart Supply the Pulpit—Call to Rev. V. H. Jones—Installation Services.

All through the year 1860 various means were suggested and some schemes adopted to pay pressing debts. In November Mr. Cooper's salary was raised "to the original $500." R. H. Burtch resigned the leadership of the choir, and Mr. Zimmerman was appointed in his place. Mr Topping resigned his position as trustee, and Brother Pavey was appointed in his place.

In December W. B. Hankinson, W. J. Copp, R. Cull and wife and others were baptized, and some received by letter. A successful anniversary was held, the proceeds of which were used to pay interest on the church site.

Thus the old year ended and the new year began, and now were added the additional burdens of the Institute. On the 1st day of January a special meeting was held to devise ways and means; and one of the resolutions adopted was a twenty-five-cent plan for the debts of the Institute, and a committee of ladies to carry it out.

J. R. Cook and wife were received by letter from St. Catharines. James Martin resigned as clerk, treasurer and deacon, and E. Topping was appointed clerk pro tem; C. O. Carryer, treasurer. The committee appointed to raise money to pay off the debt upon the chapel reported that they only required one hundred and twenty five dollars more to complete the amount and a special effort was to be made to finish the whole sum. At a subsequent meeting in March it is reported that the full amount had been subscribed.

At the April meeting James Cox was appointed church clerk and C. C. Carryer, treasurer.

The 28th of May the committee appointed to visit Mr. Luck reported that he had joined the Plymouth brethren, whereupon it was resolved "that the hand of fellowship be withdrawn from him for dereliction of duty and non attendance."

The Pastor, Deacons Burtch and Hatch and brethren Topping and Pavey, were appointed delegates to the association to be held in the Woodstock church.

Messrs. Topping and Clifford were appointed to sit in council to recognize the Wellesly church.

June 28th, Jno. R. Cook and W. Pavey were appointed deacons.

It is but right to refer here to a matter that had occupied the attention of the church for many months. Miss Crosbie had come to Woodstock under expectation of being appointed lady principal of the Institute, but was not elected to that position. She had been permitted to commune with the church but in her disappointment in failing to be appointed had said some unjust things about the pastor. Mr. Cooper asked for an investigation which was held and fully exonerated him. Mr. Martin, who had in the meantime married Miss Crosbie, defended her case, and took such a violent part against the pastor and officers of the church that after every attempt to reconcile him was made without avail: it was moved by Bro. Topping, seconded by Bro. Evans, and resolved "That the church regrets that Bro. Martin persists in his groundless charges against the pastor, and that in accepting his resignation, they are, by his own action, shut up to the necessity of withdrawing from him the hand of fellowship.

November 14th, the Pastor and E. Topping were appointed delegates to attend at the Horton street church, London, to ordain Benjamin Miller, and the expenses of said delegates to be paid by this church unless paid by the London church.

At the first communion Sabbath in January, 1862, Mr. and Mrs. Fyfe asked permission to commune with the church for a time without uniting.

At the same time Elder Cooper stated that he had heard of some dissatisfaction in regard to himself, and he wished to state that he was prepared to resign if the church thought it best.

January 16th, the committee appointed to raise money to pay arrears of the pastor's salary, gave a very discouraging report and asked for another month's time.

It was also decided to hold a social to assist the committee in their efforts—the arrears due the pastor November 1st last being $241.50. It was also decided to hold a special meeting to discuss the proposed resignation of the Pastor.

John R. Cook was appointed leader of the choir. H. Burtch having intimated that he did not consider himself the leader and "if the parties composing said choir do not conduct themselves in a becoming manner after being spoken to that Bro. Cook expel them from the choir under sanction of this church."

Special meeting held 30th January, to consider Mr. Cooper's resignation.

Moved by R. W. Sawtell, seconded by W. J. Copp, "that the church do not consider that the resignation of the pastor would advance the cause in this place or be of any advantage to the church, neither is it now required of him; and further the church would regret to learn of any serious disaffection felt by any members of the church toward him, either as a brother or pastor. And we take this opportunity to express our entire confidence in him as a pastor and esteem as a brother."

On a division being taken after much discussion there were 30 for and 11 against the resolution. It was resolved "That the students of the Institute who are members of Regular Baptist churches be admitted to a seat with us at communion on bringing letters of recommendation from such churches." At the church meeting held March 18 it was resolved, "That Elder Cooper's resignation be accepted. That a pulpit supply committee be appointed. That all be requested to make quarterly payments of pew rent, in advance, to enable the treasurer to settle with the retiring pastor. That R. H. Burtch and J. R. Cook audit the treasurer's books."

April 10th Deacons Lamport and Cook tendered their resignation of the office of deacon—laid over one month.

Elders Cooper, Stewart and Deacon Burtch were appointed a committee to confer with the colored brethren, in reference to the formation of a church for themselves, and report at next meeting.

April 24th the resignation of Deacon Lamport was accepted.

The committee reported in favor of the colored people forming a church, if they felt desirous. The sexton's salary (Mr. Godfrey) was advanced to $24 per annum. Letters of dismissal were granted to Mr. and Mrs. Cooper and George Cooper.

Delegates were asked to sit in council in the Sprague settlement to recognize a church there. E. Topping, J. R. Cook and George Blake were appointed. R. A. Fyfe and wife presented their letters from the Toronto Bond Street Church, and received the hand of fellowship on Sabbath, September 7th. On the 25th of the same month Dr. Fyfe proposed to the church, that if they would raise a special contribution to pay off a debt of $800, then due on the church site, he and Rev. W. Stewart would supply the pulpit one year free.

This generous offer was gratefully accepted, and a committee appointed to carry it out.

At the church meeting in November it was decided to hold a public meeting on "Thanksgiving day"—the first of the kind mentioned, It was held accordingly and well attended. After it terminated it was resolved, "That the church co-operate with the "ladies sewing society" in holding a tea-meeting to clear off the debt on the chapel"—the ladies to name the day. No further mention is made regarding the tea-meeting.

During the year 1862 many members were added by Baptism. On Sabbath, January 25th, a resolution was passed inviting Rev. Mr. Winterbotham to come to assist for two or three weeks. Later on Elder Geary was invited and came, who, with the assistance of Elder Topping and others, held evening meetings. Brethren Nasmyth, Copp and Cox were appointed to make provision for the Sabbath day singing.

A revising of the church roll took place, and many names were dropped at a special meeting in February. A report from the committee stated, "that with all their efforts they were $200 short of the $800 required." Eight persons, then present, guaranteed the payment of the required amount, with the understanding that the church should make an effort to assist them.

May 21st letters of dismissal were given to the Gobies, Kipps and others. Elders Fyfe and Topping and Brethren Pavey, Cook and Burtch were appointed delegates to the association, to be held at Springfield; Rev. W. Stewart and the clerk to prepare the letter.

Dr. Fyfe requested leave from pastoral duties for six weeks' vacation. Rev. W. Stewart asked to be relieved from his last three Sabbath's supply, on account of his leaving for Brantford. Both requests were granted. That Deacon Burtch and W. Nasmyth be the supply committee. That the church buy six music books for the use of the choir.

At the July meeting the thanks of the church were tendered, publicly, to Bro. W. Stewart, for his gratuitous and efficient services in the pulpit; and letters of dismissal to the Brantford Church, for himself and wife, were granted.

September 28th Brethren Copp, Pavey, Burtch and Topping were appointed a committee to co-operate with the English Church people in the purchase of a piece of land for a cemetery. "That the committee use $225 of the site funds (not yet required) to purchase said site, and close the transaction at once." A special meeting was held October 14th for the purpose of discussing the calling of a pastor. Rev. S. W.

Walden, of Dunkirk, was mentioned, and Elder Topping appointed to make enquiries.

On the 3rd of November Mr. Topping read a letter in reference to the call, which was not considered favorable. Rev. Thos. Henderson was then invited to fill the pulpit three or four weeks.

A resolution, conveying the cordial thanks of the church to Dr. Fyfe, for his efficient services for the year, was passed. That Brother Carryer's resignation as treasurer be not accepted till the end of the year. That a tea-meeting be held on Christmas Day; the proceeds to be applied towards the $800 debt on the site.

Dr. Fyfe was appointed a delegate to the ordination of Bro. F. Ratcliffe.

Church meeting, December 17th, resolutions passed:

"That Deacons Pavey, Burtch and Nasmyth be a supply committee. That the treasurer exchange the silver on hand at the best advantage, and lodge the same in the savings bank. That W. Nasmyth be the treasurer from and after the 1st of January, 1864. That the deacons assume and take charge of the sacrament funds. That a committee of ladies be appointed to collect Home Mission funds. That the pew rents be raised to meet the pastor's salary."

Special meeting, January 25, 1864 : "That we give the Rev. W. H. Jones, of Port Hope, a call to become the pastor; that we offer him six hundred dollars per annum, payable in advance quarterly. That Brother Willis be appointed usher. That Dr. Fyfe be requested to speak to the students about seating and collections."

February 18th a letter was read from Rev. W. H. Jones, accepting the call to him, to commence the first Sabbath in May.

After service, Sabbath, May 1st, the following resolution was passed : " That we have installation services on the 11th of May, and that the pastor (W. H. Jones), Brethren. Cox, Topping and Cook be a committee to make the necessary arrangements ; and the expenses of ministers attending from a distance, be paid.

May 19th the clerk and Elder Topping were appointed to write the circular letter, and the pastor, Brethren Brett, Topping, R. H. Burtch, Nasmyth and Willis be the delegates to the association.

J. E. Wells and wife were received by letter from Albert's County, New Brunswick.

At the special meeting June 8th the deacons recommended the appointment of a finance committee "to carry out a better plan of raising money for the various objects; to print and circulate cards showing the needed objects, and have parties subscribe." This was, in part, the initiation of the present method, but not fully carried out.

Special meeting, 22nd June, James Martin asked to be restored to membership—granted. " That the motion for the calling of stated monthly church meetings be rescinded, and be called hereafter by the pastor. That a social be held on Thursday, 30th instant, the proceeds to be devoted to renovating the pulpit and providing a new Bible and hymn book. That we present those now used to the colored brethren for use in their chapel." W. J. Copp and wife and W. Burtch received letters of dismissal. July 27 the pastor, Dr. Fyfe, Deacons Pavey and Cook were delegated to attend the ordination of R. B. Montgomery, to be held at the Scotland Church.

August 17th the former negotiations for a site for a cemetery having failed, a committee was appointed "to find another site, with the same powers as the former committee. That the forty dollars expenses, incurred by the pastor for removal from Port Hope, be paid."

November 16th E. Topping was elected trustee in place of Mr. Landon. who had removed from town. Deacon Pavey reported, on the 26th January, 1865, that there was "a want of harmony " in the Board of Deacons and that, consequently, he would resign. A committee was appointed to enquire into the matter, and the result was that a new election of deacons took place. Dr. Fyfe preached a sermon, setting forth the duties and privileges of the office; after which W. Pavey, J. Cox, T. G. Clifford and R. Cull were elected deacons. A. Burtch was appointed an honorary deacon.

April 4th A. E. Willis was appointed sexton at the rate of $1 per week. The trustees we're asked to attend to the repairs of the church, and also the ventilation of the same.

June 14th Bro. J. L. Campbell was granted a license to exercise his gifts and to enable him to enter as a theological student, and to receive ministerial aid.

September 8th the pastor and Brethren Topping, Clark and Midgley were appointed to sit in council at Embro, for the purpose of organizing a church there.

A committee was appointed to investigate the title of the site, and the terms of the mortgage thereon, and settle the same.

CHAPTER VIII.

Death of Deacon Burtch—Burning of the Chapel—Resignation of Pastor Jones—Withdrawal from the Denomination—Re-erection of the Church—Opening of the Basement—Call to Elder Bates—His Acceptance—Bro. Timpany—Our First Missionary—Opening of the Audience room—Protest against the Use of the Organ

January 5th, 1866, dear old Deacon Burtch passed over to the "Great Majority," and "the place that has known him so long, shall know him no more forever." It may be truly said: "this day a prince has fallen in Israel!" From the day of his "new birth" and entrance into this church—August 28th, 1824—to the day of his death (nearly 44 years), never had a church a more faithful member, or more zealous and watchful deacon—always at his post, always liberal in support and hospitable to all—strangers as well as friends. The latch string of his door was always out to every weary traveller or benighted, footsore pilgrim in the wilderness. The Canadian Literary Institute, as well as the church, may be said to owe its continued existence to his sacrificial love; for when in the deep waters of financial distress, he mortgaged his own home to rescue it from bankruptcy.

What more need be said? An interesting volume might be written in commemoration of the life of this faithful servant of the Lord, and friend of humanity; but this is not the time or place to do more than record these facts. His memory is enshrined in our hearts and "his works do follow him."

Sabbath morning, January 21, 1866—It is here recorded that "this morning between two and three o'clock, the wind blowing a hurricane, our chapel was burnt to the ground and nothing saved. Had preaching in the Institute in the morning; Sabbath School in the Free Baptist Church, afternoon; and service in the town hall in the evening. Rev. Mr. Baldwin, of Ingersoll preached on behalf of the missionary convention. Rev. W. H. Jones preaching in Ingersoll at the same time."Such is the brief record of a disaster that the church could ill afford and which involved more work and greater sacrifice on the part of the members.

Immediate preparations were made for rebuilding, committees were appointed, subscription lists circulated and past liabilities pressed for payment. The pastor, believing that the church could not rebuild and maintain a pastor at the same time, tendered his resignation, which was accepted to terminate at the end of his year, 1st of May. He to have leave of absence to visit other places.

On the 22nd of February Dr. Fyfe reported "that the committee on sites had seen Mr. Cottle and were of the opinion that the old site should be given up and a new one selected, as there would not be time to settle the validity of the title in time to re build there this summer."

It appears that there was some defect in the title which had not been discovered till recently, and now the question of the liability of the trustees was to be referred to a chancery lawyer and Dr. Fyfe, E. Topping and W. Pavey were authorized to act in the interest of the church.

Messrs. Biggins, Nasmyth and Carryer were appointed to secure plans for a new building not to exceed in cost of building $5,000.

At an adjourned meeting, 12th of March, Dr. Fyfe reported that the committee had seen a chancery lawyer who assured them that the trustees were not responsible for the claim against the site. The church decided to tender the principal and all interest thereon, originally agreed to with Messrs. Deeds and DeBlaquier. J. E. Wells was granted a license to preach.

April 19th, James Cox resigned his offices of deacon and church clerk.

A letter from John Greig acting for Mr. Betteridge was read, agreeing to accept from the church the sum offered, viz: si, $1, 021,0.8 and guaranteeing a proper deed.

A pulpit supply committee was appointed with instruction "not to pay more than four dollars per Sabbath."

A building committee consisting of Messrs. Biggins, Cox, Scofield, R. H. Burtch and W. Pavey was appointed.

Mr. Biggins plans were adopted and the committee instructed to advertise for tenders.

Rev. W. H. Jones publicly announced his intention to withdraw from the fellowship of this church and the denomination.

It was therefore resolved "That this church withdraws the hand of fellowship from him and records its disapproval of his concealing his change of views till the end of his pastorate."

Delegates to the association, Fyfe, Topping, Pavey, Midgley and Willis.

The use of the town hall to hold services therein during the rebuilding of the church was asked, and obtained.

The building committee were instructed to proceed with the re-erection on the same site.

September 30th, Dr. Fyfe, E. Topping and W. Pavey were appointed delegates to the Beachville church to sit in council.

The monthly church meetings were fixed on the third Wednesday in each month after prayer meeting.

Oct. 14th, Dr. Fyfe and J. Cox were delegated to sit in council in Toronto to recognize the Alexander Street Church.

R. H. Burtch was appointed church clerk in place of John Midgley, resigned.

January 22nd, 1867, committees were appointed to arrange for a tea-meeting. Tickets 40cts. or two for 75cts.

The mechanics' hall was engaged for use, and a resolution passed to secure a pastor as early as possible.

March 28th, the trustees were requested "to purchase a piece of land for a cemetery and to confer with Deacon Pavey on the subject."

The basement of the new church was used for the first time March 31st, when Rev. W. Stewart, of Brantford, preached in the morning and Rev. Jas. Cooper in the evening. Dr. Fyfe baptized several candidates in the afternoon.

The Sabbath school again took up its position, but in a largely improved room. It was larger, higher ceilings and better lighted and ventilated.

April 3rd, it was resolved "That we give the Rev. John Bates, now of Dundas, a call to the pastorate of the church."— Carried unanimously. "That six hundred dollars per annum be the salary paid."

A very cordial vote of thanks was passed to the Mayor and town council "for the use of the hall during the time of the rebuilding of the church."

May 7th, Dr. Fyfe was delegated to sit in council at Strathroy. Brother Galloway preached before the church and was granted a license to preach.

R. H. Burtch resigned as clerk and Deacon Carryer was appointed thereto.

Delegates were appointed to the association to be held at Mount Elgin, Dr. Fyfe to write the circular letter. Dr. Fyfe was delegated to sit in council with the Orford church to ordain James Coutts.

A letter from Rev. John Bates was read accepting the pastorate of the church to take place July 1st.

July 7th, Rev. John Bates entered upon his duties and baptized Mrs. Beard and Mary Pavey in the river Thames. Thus began a happy and prosperous pastorate.

A vote of thanks was tendered to W. Nasmyth for leading the singing for a long period. The committee to make arrangements for a new leader and proceed to collect funds for the purchase of an instrument "for the use of this chapel." That a tea-meeting be held on the Tuesday following the Sabbath upon which the chapel is opened.

Several committees were appointed to make the necessary arrangements. These proceedings took place at the business meeting, Aug. 21st. On the first Sabbath in September Dr. Fyfe gave the right hand of fellowship to Pastor Bates, Mrs. S. Bates, Miss J. Bates, Miss M. Bates on their letters from the Dundas church.

October 7th, Revs. John Bates and R. A. Fyfe were appointed delegates to sit in council with the Brantford church to assist in the ordination of our dearly beloved brother Timpany, missionary elect for India.

The building committee made the announcement that the audience room would be ready for dedication by the 12th, and that date was then fixed for the purpose indicated.

The eventful day (October 13th, 1867) was duly honored, first by a special prayer meeting held in the basement at 10 a. m. At 11a. m. Rev. Dr. Fyfe preached the dedicatory sermon to a very full house. Rev. T. L. Davidson, M. A., preached at 2.30 p. m., and the pastor, Rev. John Bates, at 6.30 p. m. The building was crowded to excess at each service. The collections amounted to eighty-eight dollars.

On Tuesday evening a tea-meeting was held in the lecture room and the sum of $156.50 realized.

A platform meeting was held in the audience room when addresses of great interest were delivered and subscriptions taken equal to the remaining debt upon the building.

A vote of thanks was publicly tendered to Bro. W. Biggins for his fidelity and skill as the architect and superintendent of the building, thus saving—by adopting the system of day work instead of contracting—a large sum in its costs and also an assurance of better work.

October 24th, the caretaker's salary (Mr. Dawes) was increased to $2 per week. It was decided to upholster the seats with crimson damask. It was also resolved "That the church do promise to pay to the singing committee the sum of $50 for one year to aid them in procuring an organist." That we vote to Mr. Draper the sum of $10 for his services as leader."

December 18th, the following petition was presented: "That with heartfelt sorrow and love of the truth, we, the undersigned are under the necessity of entering our solemn protest against the use of instrumental music to praise God in the Sabbath services of the church, and consider the same an unscriptural innovation, calculated to destroy the pure, spiritual worship of the blessed Lord." (Sgd.) John Muir, James Martin, W. Duncan, Elizabeth Muir and Mary Whitehead.

The following resolution was passed in reply to the petitioners: "That while we respect these friends we do not see the matter as they do and to show that we wish to meet their wishes as far as we can we are willing to enter upon our church minutes their protest; of course guarding ourselves from any endorsement of its sentiments."

This church has shared, to some extent, the old and deeply rooted prejudice against instrumental music. The first instance of trouble, in this respect, occurred in or about the year 1850. The singing was led at that time by an old settler by the name of James Merchant, assisted by R. H. and H. T. Burtch and R. W. Sawtell. Mr. Merchant could not always strike the key and he induced R. W. Sawtell to bring his flute and thus make sure. Occasionally the tune was new and difficult and he was asked to lead with the flute right through which he did, to the satisfaction of very many, but a few so strongly objected to "whistling God's praise through an instrument," that the flute was silenced and a tuning fork was substituted.

February 19th, 1868, a resolution was passed conferring power to the deacons to arrange and regulate the holding of all special meetings of the church. The Y. M. C. A. were granted the privilege of holding meetings in the church once in every two or three months.

Bro J. J. Baker preached before the church at the Wednesday evening prayer meeting and on the 25th of March was "granted a license to preach, good for 12 months from date."

May 20th, 1868, Pastor Bates and Dr. Fyfe were appointed delegates to sit in council at Goble's corners with the view of recognizing a Baptist church there.

Brethren Topping, Hatch, Clifford, Willis, Carryer, Bates and Fyfe were appointed delegates to the association, to be held this year at Scotland, Bro. Bates to write the circular letter.

It will be remembered that at the platform meeting on the opening of the new audience room, it was announced that the debt was provided for.

At the special church meeting, July 22nd, the following resolution was passed: "That the deacons and treasurer be requested to ascertain our indebtedness and to suggest some ways and means by which this indebtedness shall be met." Thus the old story was resumed and to add to its volume, a committee was then appointed to take steps towards erecting sheds.

September 16th it was resolved " That a special collection be taken up for foreign missions the first Sabbath in October, and one for the benefit of the widows and orphans of deceased ministers the third Sabbath." It was further proposed to take up a special collection from church members " to meet arrears in incidental expenses."

October 4th—Previous to the communion Bro. and Sister Havens, also their son and daughter, were received by letter from the St. Catharines Church, and Jabez Montgomery from Ann Arbor, Mich. On the Wednesday following it was resolved " That this church do cordially invite the Baptist Missionary Convention of Ontario to meet here next year.

On the 28th of October Thomas Johnston, E. W. Dadson and S. L. Head related their Christian experience and were received as members after baptism. Rev. C. Term and wife, from Dorchester, and Rev. J. Crawford and wife, from Cheltenham, put i i their letters, and were received as members. A 'license to preach was granted to Bro. Baird.

November 18th, 1868, Bro. J. A. Northrup and J. A. Baldwin and wife were received by letter. It was voted, "to pay out of the church treasury the sum of $2 to the home mission fund." Surely this was "the day of small things." At this meeting the ladies were asked to hold a tea-meeting about Christmas Day " To aid in paying for the church sheds now in course of erection."

November 24th Mrs. Burtch reported that the ladies had decided to hold such tea-meeting, and asked for committees to assist them in the work—which was done.

Sabbath, December 6th, the pastor gave the hand of fellowship to Neil McCallum and wife and two daughters, T. Johnston, E. W. Dadson and S. L. Head.

It may be said, here, that this was an eventful year and rich in the ingathering of souls. Large numbers were added to the church roll by letter and by baptism; many from the college, and some of whom changed their life plans and became ministers in God's service, and are still doing valiant work in His vineyard.

A special church meeting was held January 22nd, 1869, when the annual report from the treasurer was received, and auditors appointed to audit the same " That the sum of $53, balance in hand in the poor, fund, be applied to incidental expenses." At a subsequent meeting this was changed to "a loan."

Committees were appointed to collect for the "Auxiliary Home Mission Society."

Pastor Bates was requested to retire, when Dr. Fyfe was appointed chairman, and resolutions were passed deciding to give the pastor a donation on Thursday evening next, to be held in the basement; and committees appointed to assure success.

No further mention is made in regard to this matter, but it is safe to infer that it was duly carried out.

March 17th Bro. A. E Willis asked the privilege of using the basement once a month for the purpose of holding socials to raise funds for the benefit of the Sabbath School—granted.

Bro. and Sister Caswell received letters to unite with the Pictou church, N. S. ; C. Perrin and wife to Georgetown, and Bro. Northrup to Port Burwell.

Church meeting, May 19th—Revs. Dr. Fyfe and Dr. Crawford were appointed delegates to the Springford Church, to examine in council C. W. Haycock, and, if found advisable, ordain him to the gospel ministry.

Brethren Fyfe, Pavey, Havens, Crawford, Bates and Carryer were appointed delegates to the association, to be held at Waterford, and the pastor and clerk prepare statistics.

June 16th, 1869, S. S. Bates, Miss Martha Head, and Miss E. A. Crawford related their Christian experience before the church and were admitted for baptism and church membership.

It was voted to grant $5 to the treasurer of the "Red River Fund."

A question was raised as to the grant of the church to A. E. Willis of the use of the basement, as an individual, when it was decided that the grant was to the young people of the church, and not to Bro. Willis.

On Sabbath evening, June 20th, the pastor baptized J. I. Bates, S. S. Bates, E. A. Crawford, M. Head and E. McDermid; and on July 4th, they, with C. Braham and W. Monkman, received the hand of fellowship.

CHAPTER IX.

1869 - 1873

A Great Storm—Baptist Convention—Designation of John McLaurin for the Mission Field—Enlargement of the Church—Weekly Offering System—First Paid Organist—Jubilee Services—Re-opening—Young People's Society—Resignation of Elder Bates.

August 18th Brethren Fyfe, Crawford and Topping were appointed delegates to the St. Mary's church to ordain E. D. Sherman to the ministry. At this meeting an account was presented for glass and glazing windows, broken by the great hail storm in June last.

It might be mentioned, in explanation, that the storm referred to was the most severe ever known in this town. It occurred on Sunday afternoon; and such was its violence that no exposed window escaped; and there was not glass enough in stock in Woodstock to repair damages. Persons or animals exposed to the immense hailstones received great injury there-from, and the streets were flooded to a large extent.

September 15th committees were appointed to make all necessary arrangements for holding the convention, "that would be creditable to church and congregation." No mention is made in the minutes; but we have other records to show that it was one of the most enthusiastic meetings ever held by the denomination. The most interesting exercise was the designation of Bro. John McLaurin as missionary-elect for India. Two years ago Bro. Timpany was set apart at that "wonderful" meeting held in Ingersoll; but, if possible, the enthusiasm at this meeting was even greater. Mr. McLaurin reported the results of his 4,000 miles travel in behalf of the missions in Ontario and Quebec, and which kindled a missionary zeal such as never before experienced; and which afterward culminated in establishing a foreign mission of our own among the Telugus, with Bro. McLaurin as first missionary.

At the church meeting, November 24th, the pastor's salary was raised to $700, beginning the 1st of January, 1870, and arrangements made for a social and donation in January.

January 19th, 1870, J. E. Wells and R. H. Burtch were appointed auditors.

The pastor presented a letter to the church, urging the propriety of enlarging the building. A committee was appointed to take the matter into consideration.

At the monthly meeting, 16th February, the report of the committee on enlargement of the chapel was received and discussed, the committee discharged, and a new one appointed to circulate a subscription list.

March 2nd Bro. S. L. Head was granted a license to preach the gospel.

The building committee was authorised to proceed with the enlargement and the erection of a new fence. The trustees were also authorized to borrow $1,000 to apply on the payment of such improvements.

Among others, receiving the hand of fellowship on the 6th of March, was J. W. A. Stewart ; D. W. Karn was received on the 16th, by letter from Beachville.

April 24th the pastor, Dr. Fyfe, and brethren Cox and Sawtell were delegated to sit in council in Brantford for the purpose of recognizing a 2nd Baptist Church there. The pastor baptized twelve the same evening.

A special meeting was called on the 11th May to discuss plans and costs of improvements, but resulted in no definite action. It was agreed to give due notice and discuss the matter more fully on the 18th instant.

May 18th Elder Bates was appointed to write the circular letter to the association, to be held in Springford, and Brethren J. I. Bates, W. Pavey, R. A. Fyfe, E. Topping and J. Midgley, delegates. It was resolved "That the building committee be requested to modify the plans, so as to reduce the cost, and report next meeting."

May 25th a report was submitted, with plans, estimated to cost $1,300, fully discussed, adopted, and the committee instructed to proceed at once.

June 15th the trustees reported that they would be obliged to dispose of three acres of the new cemetery, to meet liabilities and erect new fences—left in their hands to do as circumstances dictated. Elder Bates and Dr. Fyfe were appointed delegates to Gait, to assist in organizing and recognizing a Baptist Church there.

July 27th the building committee reported "That they could not get the improvements proposed at the cost estimated, and recommended that on account of putting the work so late in the fall, the matter be laid over till the following spring, asking the subscribers to honor their subscriptions then." The report of the building committee was adopted.

August 17 Dr. Fyfe was delegated to attend the ordination of Bro. George Samis at West Flamboro.

October 19th Brethren Crawford and Topping were appointed delegates to a council in East Zorra Church, to ordain Brother H. Bolton to the ministry.

December 4th the pastor and Bro. Cox were delegated to sit in council at Waterdown, to recognize a Baptist Church there.

December 21st a resolution was passed calling a general conference meeting of the church and congregation, to be held on the second Thursday in January, 1871, to consider matters of interest.

The meeting referred to was held, and an interesting discussion of church affairs took place, resulting in the recommendation of the adoption of the weekly offering system for the raising of general funds. A committee was appointed to bring in a re-report of a plan at next meeting.

January 18th, 1871, collectors were appointed to canvass for funds for the home missions.

It was resolved " That the control of the singing and playing upon the instrument be entirely under the direction of the church."

" That R. W. Sawtell and W. Pavey be the music committee for this year."

The committee on the weekly offering system reported a plan, which was adopted, and R. W. Sawtell and W. Nasmyth appointed a committee to carry it out.

February 1st, 1871, the music committee recommended the appointment of Miss Bell as organist, at the salary of $30 per annum —report adopted. This is the first official appointment of an organist and cannot be considered an extravagant salary. It was sufficient, however, to commit the church to the principal, and is also an indication that the organ had come to stay— notwithstanding the strong prejudice of some, who, on account of this action, left the church.

May 7th the delegates to the association were the pastor, E. Topping, J. Hatch, E. Miller, C. Herrington—J. E. Wells to write the circular letter.

A resolution was passed to take up a collection to pay the expenses of the delegates.

October 11th the question of enlargement was again discussed, and a new building committee, consisting of Brethren Sawtell, Hatch, Biggins, Nasmyth, H. T. Burtch and F. B. Schofield appointed.

The canvassing committee was urged to secure promises for at least $1,500, payable 1st of April and 1st November, 1872.

Mr. Judd White was appointed leader of the choir.

December 27th W. Nasmyth tendered his resignation of the offices of treasurer and trustee. A resolution of appreciation of his services was passed.

Dr. Fyfe, R. H. Burtch and R. W. Sawtell were appointed a committee to convey the thanks of the church to him. They, at the same time, presented him with a writing desk.

R. W. Sawtell was then elected trustee in place of James Cox, who had resigned, and instructed to collect arrearages on lots sold in the cemetery.

February 21st, 1872, six members of the Reddick family were received by letters as members.

At this meeting it was resolved " That we hold jubilee services in this church on the 22nd of April; and that the following be a committee to carry out the arrangements for the same. viz.: Messrs. Pavey, Sawtell, R.H. Burtch, Biggins, Hatch, Nasmyth, H. F. Burtch, Dr. Howland and the pastor; also Mrs. Hatch. Mrs. Pavey, Mrs. A. Burtch, Mrs. Sawtell, Mrs. Wells and Mrs. Carryer."

March 3rd the pastor and Deacon Pavey were appointed delegates to a council at Gait, to ordain George Wheeler if deemed advisable.

No further mention is made of the jubilee; but other records remind us that it was an event of great interest to the church.

On Sabbath, April 21, Dr. Fyfe preached an eloquent discourse in the forenoon, and Rev. W. Stewart—then of Bond street, Toronto—in the evening. The building was crowded at each service, and good collections given in aid of the building fund.

On Monday evening, April 22nd, a soiree was held. Tea was served from six to eight o'clock, after which the large assembly was addressed by several former pastors and others. Mr. Landon read an historical sketch of the early days of the church, and exhibited a model, built with logs, of the schoolhouse where the church was organized and worshipped for many years.

A committee was subsequently appointed to have the "sketch and Dr. Fyfe's sermon printed"; but it was never done. It ' -afterwards lodged in the college museum.

The jubilee choir of the church was led by John Weeks, and the drilling, then received, placed it in frequent demand by the Y. M. C. A. and other organizations for some time thereafter. R. W. Sawtell was appointed leader.

May 15th Brethren R. H. Burtch, E. Miller, E. Topping, C. Bradley, W. Pavey and the pastor were appointed delegates to the association—to be held at Burgessville—the pastor to write the circular letter.

Dr. Fyfe, J. Crawford and E Topping were delegated to meet in council with the Burgessville Church on July 25th, to ordain W. D. Lowther.

The enlargement of the church was proceeded with immediately after the jubilee services. It consisted in extending the back wall 10 feet to the boundary of the lot on the north, with a wing on the east and west, giving one extra exit by a door in the east and a choir gallery and door in the west wing.

November 10th, 1872, a reopening of the chapel took place with Rev. A. H. Munro, of Toronto, at 11 a.m., in., Rev. C. Perrin, of Georgetown, at 6.30 p. m. Appropriate addresses were given to the Sabbath school in the afternoon.

On Monday evening a platform meeting was, held when addresses were given by several good speakers, and the choir gave some choice renderings.

November 13th, a vote of thanks was passed and tendered to the trustees of the Institute for the use of their chapel "during the time the contractors had possession of our own place of worship."

The trustees were requested to erect a picket fence along the east and south sides of the property. It was resolved "That the church pay pew rent in advance to commence from the present quarter."

The weekly offering system presented by the committee did not obtain favor at this time, and fell through.

January 15th, 1873, Bro. Clifford resigned the office of deacon of the church—resignation accepted.

The treasurer presented his annual statement. D. W. Karn and R. W. Sawtell were appointed auditors.

In order to bring the work of the Sabbath School more into touch with the church, it was resolved " That as the work of the Sabbath School instruction is recognized as part of the church's work, and ought to be encouraged by it, we hold a social tea-meeting here on Thursday, 23rd instant, for the benefit of its funds."

Collectors were appointed " to procure funds for the missionary convention."

February 19th C. C. Carryer wished to be relieved from being a member of the finance committee, which was done.

Bro. John Hatch was unanimously elected deacon of the church.

March 19th Brethren Montgomery and Biggins were duly elected deacons.

April 6th—A series of weekly meetings had been held by the pastor and very large numbers "brought to the Light," and presented themselves for baptism. At no time in the history of the church had there been such an interest, or as many converted to the truth.

At this meeting we find the following resolution inserted, which evinces the tenacity to which some hold a prejudice against the "innovation of instrumental music"—moved by E. Topping, March 9th, and lost; but, by his request, was now inserted in the minutes:

"Whereas Bro. James Martin has been for a number of years grieved on account of the manner in which instrumental music was introduced into this church; and whereas he now expresses his willingness to be reconciled to the church, on condition that the church passes a resolution expressing regret that instrumental music was introduced in such a manner as to grieve any of its members; therefore, resolved, That this church does regret that it should have been so introduced as to grieve or give offence to any brother or sister."

Sabbath, May 4th, was a day long to be remembered. The hand of fellowship was given by Pastor Bates to 24 new members, nearly all of whom had been recently baptized—18 were females and 6 males.

Revs. Bates and Fyfe and Deacon Pavey were delegated to sit in council at Petrolea on the ordination of Bro. Johnston.

May 21st Brethren Fyfe, Pavey, Karn, McCall and the pastor were appointed to attend as delegates to the association, to be held at Villa Nova—pastor and R. W. Sawtell to write the circular letter.

Sunday, May 25th, eight were baptized.

June 18th the young people of the church, having organised themselves into a society known as the "Young People's Christian Association in connection with the church," and desiring to establish a Sabbath School in the west end of the town, reported that they proposed to buy a lot, and asked the liberty to have the deed made to the trustees of this church—request granted.

A letter was read from the pastor, resigning his charge of the pastorate.

Special church meeting held 25th June. The resignation of Bro. Bates was fully discussed; after which the following resolution was passed: " That while we cannot urge our beloved to continue labors to which he finds his physical strength no longer equal, we cannot permit the peaceful and loving relations we have so long sustained to each other, as pastor and people, to be discontinued without expressing our grateful sense of the fervent piety, intense zeal for our spiritual welfare, and whole-hearted consecration to his Master's work, which have constantly abounded in his labors amongst us; and we rejoice to be assured that his resignation, at this time, is due to no feeling of dissatisfaction with the imperfect manner in which we have discharged our duties, as a Christian church. In accepting this resignation, we sincerely hope that a release from the arduous labors and responsibilities, necessarily devolving upon the pastor of so large a church, will fully restore his health; and that we may still enjoy the pleasure of his company and receive the benefit of his mature knowledge and large Christian experience."

The clerk was instructed to send the letter of the pastor and a copy of this resolution to " The Baptist " for publication.

No pastor could be more beloved by his people than Elder Bates: and never did any pastor work more devoutly and conscientiously for his church—faithful sowing: and abundant reaping was the result. The large accessions to the church, and particularly of the young, gave evidence of his loving ministrations. Nor did it end with his pastorate; his successor reaped largely, for a year or more, as the results of Mr. Bates' faithful sowing.

Not in the church only were his labors abundant; but he gave of his means, and his valuable services as secretary of the executive committee of the Institute for many years. In India, also, his name—and those of his two honored daughters, Mrs. Timpany and Mrs. McLaurin—are known and highly honored in many Christian homes as faithful servants of the Lord. In fact he was the faithful advocate and helper in all our denominational enterprizes.

CHAPTER X.

1874 - 1878

E. W. Dadson Licensed to Preach—Call to Rev. E. Goodspeed— Installation—Mission Schools East and West—Fall of Church Ceiling—Committees for Church Work—Death of Elder Bates—New Building on Vansittart Avenue—D. A. McGregor.

Brethren Montgomery, Pavey and Sawtell were appointed a committee to provide a leader of the choir, to succeed the latter, who retired from the leadership.

The committee appointed to nominate a suitable pastor for the church reported in favor of the Rev. Calvin Goodspeed, of New Brunswick.

The report was adopted, and a call forwarded. One thousand dollars per annum was the sum fixed for salary.

March 18th a letter was read from Mr. Goodspeed, accepting the position of pastor, "services to commence 1st of September next."

It was reported, that after paying $40 for wood, $60 towards the new fence and $17.50 towards the organist's salary, the Ladies' Aid Association intended discontinuing its operations during the summer months. The report was adopted.

Brethren Karn, Sawtell and Howland were appointed a committee to provide accommodation for those who desire to attend the public meeting, to be held at the C. L. Institute, April 7th.

letters of dismissal were granted to Elder Bates and wife, to unite with the church at St. George, where he had accepted a call to the pastorate. Thus, on the 29th day of April, a pastorate (of six years' duration) was severed, which had been greatly blessed of God in the salvation of many souls, and the uplifting of church work and Christian privileges in the church at Woodstock; surpassing any similar period in its history.

For two years a Sabbath School had been successfully held in the west end, and Mr. Bates, with others, had made efforts to secure a suitable lot for the erection of a school, but so far without success.

July 15th W. Nasmyth resigned the treasurership of the church, and Bro. T. S. McCall was appointed his successor. R. H. Burtch and R. W. Sawtell to audit the late treasurer's books.

October 14th John M. Whyte, who had for some time been leader of the choir, resigned; and a vote of thanks was tendered him for his efficient services.

The deacons, who had been asked to make arrangements for installation services, reported in favor of holding such meeting on Tuesday evening next.

A committee, previously appointed, submitted a scheme for systematic church work, under the control and charge of the church. It embraced the Sabbath School work, tract distribution, visiting sick, caring for strangers, visiting delinquent members and several other matters. The scheme was adopted, and committees appointed to carry out the various departments of work.

October 20th—The installation of Pastor Goodspeed took place this evening, when Dr. Castle preached an eloquent sermon appropriate to the occasion. Rev. W. H. Porter, of Brantford, gave the address to the pastor; the right hand of fellowship by the Rev. Dr. Cooper, of London; the Rev. John Bates, the induction prayer; and Dr. Fyfe offered the welcome on behalf of the church. The pastor briefly responded and closed by prayer.

November 18th Mr. J. J. Baker was appointed leader of the choir, in place of Mr. J. M. Whyte, resigned.

It was resolved to raise the sum by private subscription.

Dr. Fyfe, J. Montgomery and the pastor were appointed a committee to advise and provide a suitable hymn book general adoption and use of the church.

January 21st, 1875, Dr. Fyfe reported on behalf of the committee, recommending the adoption of the "Canadian Baptist Hymn Book." Brethren Sawtell and Karn to be the committee to procure them on the best terms possible.

Reports from the east end and west end Sabbath Schools were given, showing very satisfactory results.

R. W. Sawtell reported, on the part of the auditors, that they had discovered an error, in the late treasurer's account, of $100; but it was against himself, and Brother Nasmyth forbid the auditors to make it known to the church, or refuses to accept it if the church offers to repay the same.

Sabbath, January 31st, Rev. C. Goodspeed baptised seven candidates at Strathallan, in the forenoon, and sixteen in the Woodstock Church in the evening. The house was crowded. The centre piece and part of the plaster fell from the ceiling. Fortunately, no one was hurt, but considerable damage was done to the seats. The trustees met on Tuesday morning and decided to recommend the putting up of a substantial wood ceiling.

February 5th a request was made for delegates to sit in council at Strathallan, with the view of organizing a church there. Brethren Pavey, Hatch, Yule, Topping and the pastor were elected delegates thereto.

Letters of dismissal were given to twelve members to assist in forming said church.

Among those admitted by letter was Dr. McLay. Nearly all the candidates baptised were young people, and to-day very many of them are the active members of the church.

A new scheme was submitted to manage the finances—under a financial committee consisting of the deacons, trustees and treasurer—dividing the church into sections, and soliciting aid from every member personally; enjoining the duty of each one giving something; and anyone six months in arrears for pew rent, such seat "to revert to the church." He then moved, That an effort be made to raise $1,000 by subscription this year, in two payments, to provide accommodation for the Sabbath School in the west end; provided that $200 of the same be applied to the debt on the church." Carried unanimously.

The matter was left in the hands of the finance committee, who were to submit plans and estimates to the church.

June 20th Pastor Goodspeed read before the meeting his resignation as pastor.

Special meeting held July 2nd —Prof. Torrance in the chair. There was a full meeting of members. The resignation of Pastor Goodspeed was read, and after some discussion and a full explanation by the deacons, Bro. August 4th, a delegation, consisting of Brethern Pavey, Topping and Karn, were appointed to sit in council at the Bayham church, on a matter of dispute between the pastor and the deacons there.

It is not a part of this work to chronicle the death of the ministers; but it would be remiss to omit a reference to such a benefactor as Dr. Fyfe.

In 1865 he had been attending the Baptist anniversaries in St Louis, Missouri, and while returning a collision occurred, which overturned the car he was in, and which so affected his nervous system that he never fully recovered from the shock. This, added to the worries of financial deficits and college labors, gradually overcame his powerful physique and robust constitution. He gradually failed, and on the 4th of September, 1878, seed away to higher duties and greater responsibilities.

His remains were taken to Toronto, and buried by the side of his first wife, in the Necropolis. Thus passed from our church life one of the wisest counsellors, truest friend, liberal giver and ablest preacher this or any other church ever had, and it may be truly said, "We shall never see his like again."

Bro. Wells had been a faithful and helpful member of the church for so many years, that it was with profound regret that circumstances had determined him to give up teaching at the college here, and the church felt it keenly.

During the latter years of Dr. Fyfe, and especially after his health became enfeebled, Prof. Wells had been practically the principal, and after the doctor's death Mr. Wells was appointed principal of the literary department, and Rev. J. Torrance principal of the theological.

Bro. Torrance now became principal of the whole school, but symptoms of failing health were evident, and Prof. Torrance's friends feared the worst in his case also.

February 16th, Rev. W. Pickard and family were received by letter by Guelph.

April 13th—For some time it had been found by experience that a mistake was made in erecting a mission school on Vansittart avenue. During the many years it was held on Dundas street west, the attendance at the Sabbath school was large, and the occasional preaching by the students was well attended, and a deep interest felt.

Prof. McGregor, while in charge of the mission, reported that the present location was not right, and advised opening the Sabbath school where the children were: but there was no response to this appeal, and the result was that the mission was abandoned, and a resolution passed, this evening, to adopt the report of the committee, who had charge of the property, to sell, as they had been offered $900—it had cost the church about double that amount.

May 18th, letters of dismissal were given to S. J. McKee and wife, to Manitoba; S. S. Bates, to Gobles; John Trotter, to Strathroy, and George Frazer received by letter from Belleville.

August 7th, the death of Bro. John Torrance was recorded, and it was moved to send a letter of condolence to Mrs. Torrance and family in the deep affliction they were called to endure.

Thus the college was again deprived of a principal, in the very prime of life and mental vigor, and the church of a worthy brother, and as an eloquent, logical and forcible preacher, Bro. Torrance had so earned the entire love and admiration of the church during his frequent ministrations, prior to the coming of Mr. Ashley, that he could have had a unanimous call as its pastor; but he declined; not that he rejected or disliked the work, but that he felt that the call to the work to which he had responded and done so well, as a theological teacher, the more important and necessary.

September 16th, the pastor and deacons Hatch and Pavey were delegated to sit in council in St. George on the ordination of D. H. Mihel.

The evening session was similarly occupied with the addition of reading letters from absent members. A donation of $177 towards the debt was contributed. Such was the interest that the pastor failed to get the meeting closed till 11 p.m. All seemed delighted with this new departure.

Bro. Trotter, while attending McMaster Hall, had always arranged to be present at the ordinance, and up to the present had received new members every month by baptism or letter. He was therefore granted a much needed holiday.

October 26th, the deacons recommended that the scheme proposed to raise three cents per member per week for educational purposes be adopted.—Carried unanimously.

November 18th, the pastor introduced the subject of church socials, recommending holding them more frequently when a committee consisting of the pastor and Brethren Karn and Sawtell was appointed to arrange for the same. The first was held the 28th and was well attended and profitable.

The union prayer meetings of 1885 produced good results and were continued every evening in our own church, so that the usual annual and monthly meetings were not held till February 19th, when the usual reports were presented and adopted.

A committee consisting of R. W. Sawtell, W. Biggins and D. W. Karn was appointed to take steps to erect a mission school b ose in the east end and report to the church.

September 23rd it was "resolved to engage an architect to prepare plans for the improvements to be made in the church," and a committee was appointed to solicit subscriptions for the east end mission house and for a new pipe organ. The present one having failed to give satisfaction.

October 28, R. W. Sawtell reported for the trustees that they deem it unwise to incur the expenses of an architect at present until some definite plans for raising the funds for enlargement are matured, and in their opinion a local architect should be engaged when necessary. The report was laid upon the table.

The pastor and deacon Beardsall were delegated to attend the ordination of Bro. Avauche at Stratford.

R. G. Sawtell presented the report of the committee for east mission which recommended a social to be held on the 17th of November. Report adopted.

November 18th, the mission school and pipe organ for the church were again discussed and a resolution passed asking the trustees to proceed at once with both objects.

November 25th, Mr. Trotter stated to the meeting that circumstances were such that he was under the necessity of severing his connection with the church, which he deeply regretted, because he loved the church as he never expected to love another, and his relations with the brethren were without a flaw. On being pressed for his reasons he admitted that he must have a larger salary to meet the obligations he was called upon to discharge, and feeling that the Woodstock church was paying as much as it ought, he had indicated to the Park church, Brantford, that he would accept the liberal offer made him by that church.

Mr. Trotter then left to allow the church to discuss the matter.

Deacon Pavey was appointed chairman and Bro. Wolverton moved a very lengthy resolution to the effect that the church could not allow his needs to stand in the way of his remaining the pastor of this church. That we thank him for his frank and manly statement and urge him to withdraw his resignation agreeing to increase his salary to more than the amount offered by the church referred to.

A committee was appointed to canvass for special contributions to make up the required amount, and Brethren Karn, Wolverton and R. H. Burtch to present the resolution passed and urge him to remain the pastor of this church.

December 2nd, Bro. Beardsall reported the result of the canvass as entirely satisfactory—more than the increase required had been subscribed.

December 9th, Mr. Trotter intimated that on the action taken by the church as expressed in the resolution of November 25th, and the report of the committee as given December 2nd he would withdraw his resignation.

December 16th, it was resolved that in consequence of unforeseen circumstances, the committee defer the purchase of a pipe organ for the present but that the one in the gallery be removed to the tower and a reed organ be used in its place.

The pastor was authorized to select a suitable hymn book for use in the prayer meetings.

January 27th, 1886, R. W. Sawtell reported from the trustees that work on the mission school on the lot purchased from Mr. Frizelle was progressing as fast as the weather permits.

One hundred copies of Sanky and Moody's hymn books were ordered.

The clerk was asked to retire when a resolution was passed, expressing the thanks of the church, and to be accompanied by a donation of $50 to C. C. Carryer, for so many years, faithful service.

The adjourned annual business meeting was held January 28th. The various usual reports were read and adopted.

A report from an informal meeting of deacons and trustees, held at the house of D. W. Karn, for the purpose of considering the propriety of providing increased seating accommodation in the audience-room, was read, recommending the outlay of $1,000 and giving additional seating room for 160 persons. The report was adopted, and a committee consisting of Messrs. Karn, Sawtell, Biggins and R. H. Burtch to mature plans and report in two weeks.

Bro. Clifford resigned the office of sexton. At the close of the meeting. Pastor Trotter, in a few appropriate words of esteem and confidence from the church, presented Bro. Carryer with a check for the sum of $50, as instructed at a former meeting.

Bro. Carryer was quite overcome with the kindness expressed, and said that he felt stronger and better for such an expression.

February 10th—It was moved and seconded that the committee mature plans and secure tenders for the proposed enlargement, and that Bro. Sawtell be chairman of the building committee.

Sunday, March 7th, the hand of fellowship was given to ten new members.

The pastor asked the church to add another new deacon to the board, by election, at an early meeting.

Special meeting, March 10th, called to discuss the plans and specifications, when, after various suggestions, the report was adopted by 27 to 4 to proceed with the work at once.

Delegates to the Baptist Union at Toronto were appointed as follows: The pastor and Deacons Hatch, Karn, Pavey and Beardsall.

It was resolved to ask for the use of the town hall while the alterations were being made.

Bro. R. H. Burtch was duly elected deacon of the church.

Notwithstanding but four votes against the plans for enlargement, a feeling, subsequently obtained, that it would be wiser to enlarge the building for permanency, than to spoil it by galleries. Other meetings were held and larger plans and sketches made. A special meeting was called, May 12th, when a report was presented, and the plans adopted for a large extension to the west, and a re-arrangement of the entire audience-room, and completion of the spire, which never had been finished. The estimates then submitted amounted to $6,620, but it subsequently became enlarged to nearly $11,000, including a new pipe organ by Warren, of Toronto, at a cost of $1,550.

The trustees were authorized to mortgage the property for the sum required, and proceed forthwith. A measure of enthusiasm was thrown into the work that was a surprise to the whole church. Cuthbertson & Fowler were the architects, and Bickerton & Co., the contractors. D. W. Karn and R. W. Sawtell, inspectors, and the latter chairman of the building committee.

A large committee was appointed to arrange for the annual members' meeting in June. The donations were to go towards the extension, and determined to raise at least $2,000 for that object during the year.

Wednesday, May 26th—The pastor and R. W. Sawtell were appointed delegates to sit in council in Guelph on the 3rd of June, at the proposed ordination of Bro. W. C. Weir.

The members' annual meeting was held June 4th, when the attendance was large. A letter from J. McLaurin, who had returned a second time to India, together with many others from absent members, were read and greatly enjoyed. Many branches of church work were referred to, and a very delightful and profitable time was spent together. The pastor referred to the large number of deaths during the year—seven.

Rev. Mr. Ware preached the association sermon. The delegates from our own church were the pastor and Brethren Havens, Beardsall, Catling, Sawtell and Leadbeater. Total number of members reported, 330. Contributions for the year, $3,202. Number of scholars, 210; contributions, $140. J. I. Bates, supt. East school, No. 107, contributions, $67. Supt., Mr. Waldo.

June 16th, the pastor and Deacons Pavey and Beardsall were delegated to attend a council at Gobles to ordain Brother Frazer June 22. The pastor and Deacons Hatch and Beardsall to attend a council at Springford on the 28th Juno, to ordain Bro. McLennan.

June 26th, 1886—The death of our beloved brother, Rev. W. H. Landon, is recorded. His activity and zeal for souls began with his membership, in the very earliest days of the church's history, and except for the few years spent in the West Indies, and a few other years when he isolated himself, on account of difference of views, his labors were abundant and freely given, " without money and without price."

A short time before he died a very pleasant surprise party, headed by the pastor, took possession of his house and cheered his declining days, by an appreciative address and a present. He expressed his extreme pleasure with the unexpected event, and said it would be a sweet memoir of the continued love of the church, to which he was so deeply attached.

He left a widow who is still an active and beloved member of the church.

July 19th, the pastor was voted a vacation.

September 30th, a joint meeting of the church and college was held in the latter place this evening, for the purpose of designating and bidding farewell to our beloved sister, Miss Bella Hatch, who was intending to devote her life and energies to zenanna work among the Telugus of India.

November 24th—It was decided by the church to organize an association to be called " The Women's Committee for Church Work," to meet monthly, or oftener, to discuss and take up the required work of the church—rightly considered their special work.

An application was sent to the church from Ionia, Mich., asking it to send a delegate to the ordination of Bro. T. S. McCall.

On Sabbath December 19th, 1886, after worshipping in the town hall for six months the church returned to its enlarged and beautiful home.

Rev. Dr. Thomas, of Toronto, preached in the forenoon. Rev. W. Cuthbertson, Congregational minister at Woodstock in the afternoon and Dr. Thomas in the evening. Nearly 1,000 people attended each service. Prof. E. R. Doward, organist of Jarvis street church, Toronto, presided at the splendid new organ and with a good choir produced excellent music.

It is not necessary to describe the handsome and commodious building which was this day reopened. Its appearance and accoustics are all that could be wished for and its conveniences for Sabbath school and general purpose excellent. As before stated the cost including new carpets, upholstering and organ amount to nearly $11,000, but in every respect it is equal to an entirely new building and strangers have no conception from the interior but that it was all planned from the beginning.

Church meeting December 22nd, W. H. Whitehead was appointed sexton, J. Hoyle having resigned. The resignation of Bro. Topping as trustee was accepted and a vote of thanks given him for long services.

December 29th, W. Biggins was elected trustee.

The North part of the church was set apart for the accommodation of the lady students and the south gallery to gentlemen.

Several changes have taken place in the College during the year. A charter had been obtained establishing McMaster University by act of parliament to include Woodstock College, McMaster Hall, Toronto, to which the theological department had been removed from Woodstock some years ago, and an arts department which it was intended and expected to be established in Woodstock. Mr. Wolverton had resigned the position of principal here which he had so faithfully occupied since the death of Principal Torrance and D. Rand had been induced to take his place on the understanding that the arts department should be developed here: hence on Sunday morning, January 2nd, Dr. T. H. Rand and wife were admitted members of this church by letter from Toronto.

Large numbers of new candidates were applying for baptism Bro. Ware was assisting the pastor in evening meetings so that the January business meeting usually held was omitted.

Feb. 17th, the annual business meeting was held and the usual reports adopted.

It was, according to previous notice "resolved to close our associational year on the 15th of May and the annual business meeting be held on the last Wednesday in May."

March 6, 1887, at the business meeting this evening the pastor stated that he needed a long vacation and with the permission of the church he wanted to visit his native land, England, and would be absent 4 months. He felt sure that as the deacons could secure the services of Bro. H. C. Spellar for the whole period the church would the more readily grant his request.

A resolution referring to the late severe work of the pastor in the ingathering of such a large number of new members and his great need of a vacation, the request was concurred in and kind expressions for his welfare and safe return were embodied in the resolution unanimously passed by a standing vote.

Almost every week candidates were examined and received for baptism and the hand of fellowship given on the first Sabbath of each month.

Wednesday April 20th, the lecture room was filled and the usual business gave place to a delightful meeting presided over by the pastor, who after giving his own farewell address introduced Bro. Spellar as the substitute during his absence. Bro. Spellar made a very practical and humorous address. Kind expressions were given to Mr. Trotter in his voyage and prospective future.

April 27th, Bro. King was granted a license to preach the gospel.

June 3rd the members' meeting was held as usual and proved quite as interesting as previous ones. In addition to exercises of a devotional and social character the secretary of the trustees gave a full report of the finances of the church, showing that $7,099.04 had been raised in cash during the year.

June 28th, a public meeting was held this evening for the purpose of giving expressions of welcome to Bro. McLaurin and wife whose return from India to save his life, if not to restore his health, was their reason for returning. So low was he with fever that he was reported dead and Mrs. McLaurin never expected to bring him home alive, but the sea voyage had so helped him as to enable him to be present on this occasion and receive the spontaneous welcome accorded. Rev. Mr. Woodward represented the Grand River association. The Rev. Mr. Cuthbertson the ministers of the town. Mr. T. S. Shenston the Foreign Missionary Society. Pastor Spellar presided and gave the address of welcome to his own church and Rev. Bro. McLaurin replied in feeble voice but loving and wise words.

The hand of fellowship was given to 9 new members July 3rd.

July 20th, Bro. W. Johnston was appointed superintendent of the East Sabbath school.

Bro. Walter Watts reported that it was the intention of the Young People's association to purchase a piano for the Sabbath school and asked the church to hold a lawn social on that behalf—granted.

A letter was read from Rev. E. Judson thanking the church for a donation towards the Judson memorial church erected in New York.

September 9th, 1887, a meeting was held to welcome home Pastor Trotter and wife from their visit to the Old Land. Mr. Spellar occupied the chair. R. W. Sawtell read the address from the church, Dr. Rand spoke on behalf of the college and Mr. Wolverton the Sabbath school. Rev. Dr. Castle, Rev. Mr. Turnbull and Rev. December 7th Bro. Grove resigned the leadership of the choir, which was accepted, and a resolution passed expressing the thanks of the church for his long and faithful services. Mr. E. M. Karn was appointed to the position of leader.

The anniversary of the reopening of the church was held on the 19th December when Rev. Dr. Denovan preached morning and evening to a very full house.

On Monday evening Dr. Denovan delivered a lecture on "The Great Revival in Ireland," which was intensely interesting. Miss Grove presided at the organ and some choice vocal solos were given by Mr. and Mrs. G McLeod. The pastor gave a statement of the financial position of the church and asked that $400 be made up during the meetings. A sum amounted to $411 was announced as the result of both day's collections.

March 14, 1888, a special meeting of the church was called to elect delegates to attend the educational meeting to be held at Guelph, to decide the questions discussed in Toronto at the autumn convention but not then decided, First: Independence versus confederation with the Provincial University," second, locating the arts department of McMaster University.

Having referred to the object of this meeting it becomes try to make a brief explanation. Several years ago a similar meeting was held in Guelph also, to discuss the removal of the theological department from Woodstock to Toronto. The attendance of delegates was large and the discussion at times warm; and the vote if taken would have been largely in favor of remaining in Woodstock, but at the point of deciding Dr. Castle, then in the confidence of Mr. McMaster, made a statement to the effect that if taken to Toronto the necessary buildings would be provided and probably an endowment, but he was not at liberty to say more. It was evident that the matter could be left in such hands. It was well known that Mr. McMaster had set his heart upon the work and it was at once decided to let him. The result was that McMaster hall (subsequently named against his wish) was erected at a cost of about $80,000 and largely endowed, and the theological department removed thereto—leaving the literary department doing the first year's university work—and the ladies department still at Woodstock.

In 1880 and '81 a canvas for an endowment of $50,000 and for $10,000 to pay the debt at Woodstock had been made by Mr. Dyke to which it was liberally subscribed and a large part of the subscriptions paid.

Subsequently, the subscribers of the old C. L. Institute, at the Paris convention, agreed to surrender their rights and management to the denomination, "provided it should be consolidated and developed." Later on a charter was obtained from the Ontario Government constituting McMaster University, when it was understood that the arts department would be developed at Woodstock." The first of a series of buildings " was erected for a dining hall (and a second one planned) looking to the future requirements of the university, costing nearly $30,000, and the foundation stone of which was laid by Mrs. McMaster, in the presence of a large assembly, including the Hon. Mr. McMaster. The people of Woodstock had been solicited for subscriptions to the amount of $10,000 towards the erection of buildings for the art department, and had pledged $11,000 for that purpose, in anticipation of this becoming a university town.

Expectation ran high, and when it was learned in the summer of 1887 that the location of the arts department was unsettled, and that the question would be reopened and fully discussed in Toronto at the October convention, the friends of Woodstock college, and particularly the people of Woodstock, were astounded, and could not believe the rumor. Mr. McMaster died suddenly before the discussion was opened.

Previous to the October meeting in Toronto the Baptist opened its columns for a full discussion, and it was hotly argued as " Woodstock vs. Toronto." At the meeting held in Toronto, the question of "Independency " was discussed, and, virtually, decided to oppose confederation, but the vote was reserved for a special meeting, to be held at Guelph, on the 27th of March 1888.

The delegates named from our own church were : The pastor. Dr. Rand, R. W. Sawtell, D. W. Karn, N. Wolverson, J. H. Farmer and J. I. Bates, who were elected by ballot.

The town subscribers elected Messrs. John White, J. M. Grant and J. Sutherland, M. P., to represent their interest at the meeting.

The meeting was held in the Baptist church, Guelph, and upwards of 500 delegates were present. The question of " Independency vs. Confederation," excited but little interest, and the vote was almost unanimous in favor of the former.

The exciting question was the location; but those favorable to Toronto had organized their forces to better advantage, and, by introducing a plausible clause in their resolution to respect the "moral obligation to Woodstock," and other well ordered plans, secured a small majority in favor of Toronto. It is needless to add that the friends of Woodstock college were not only surprised but dissatisfied, and the town subscribers held an indignation meeting to condemn the whole arrangement.

The church here felt humiliated and disgraced by the breaking of faith with the Woodstock subscribers, and all who had been led to believe that "Mr. McMaster had acquiesced in the purpose of developing the arts work here, and had made his will with that in view." The church openly expressed its disapproval in a meeting held to hear the report of the delegates.

The occurrence is so recent and so well understood that a fuller statement seems unnecessary; but in justice to the Woodstock church the reference now made could not be avoided.

The following delegates were elected, March 21st, to attend a council at London South, to recognize a new church there, viz.: Brethren Beardsall, Catling, Pavey, McLaurin, Bates and the pastor.

A resolution was passed, moved by N. S. McKechnie, seconded by D Clark, " that we tend an invitation to the convention now assembling, to meet with us next year."

Brother W. H. Huston and wife were received as members on their letters to this church.

In reference to the work of the convention held at Ottawa, it might be stated that it was a very large and enthusiastic one, especially in regard to missions and French evangelization.

Another important movement was the enthusiastic adoption of Brother D. S. Thompson's resolution, condemning the principle of "exemption from taxation of church property and ministers' incomes."

Considerable dissatisfaction was expressed in regard to the removal of the ladies' department from Woodstock to Toronto, which had been the work chiefly of Dr. McVicar, the chancellor of McMaster University who had influenced Mrs. McMaster to assist in founding Moulton's Ladies College instead.

The matter of beginning the arts work in McMaster Hall was discussed and largely disapproved, but not brought to a vote.

Professor Fanner had been principal of Woodstock College since the retirement of Dr. Rand, but being elected to a chair in Toronto Baptist College, Bro. W. H. Huston, principal of one of the Collegiate Colleges of Toronto was appointed to take his place. Brother Wolverton had succeeded in inducing the governors to establish a manner training department—the first in Canada—at the Woodstock College and as head of that department had made it a great success. In response to the "moral obligation clause" Chancellor McVicar had succeeded in making very large changes in the building and equipment here and, with the first year's University work continued, Bro. Huston had accepted the charge of Principal with great enthusiasm and threw all his energy and love into the work of training his "boys."

"The Women's Baptist Missionary Convention" was held in this church October 24th and 25th, when a very large number of delegates attended. The meetings were open to the public, and a large number availed themselves of the opportunity of seeing women transact business; and many were honest enough to confess that in prompt, business management, and short, effective speaking, they put to shame some of the more pretentious efforts of the "stronger" sex.

At the close of the second afternoon session, the convention accepted the invitation of Principal Huston and his faculty to a reception at the college, and a delightful evening was spent there, taxing largely the space and hospitalities of that large institution; but leaving pleasant memories of Woodstock and the entertainment given during the whole of the convention. The Woodstock church will cherish as a fragrant blessing the coming to it of so many inspiring friends, and a longing for a repetition of such.

January 15—Monthly business meeting. A number were received by letter and for baptism. Brother Dadson announced that special evangelistic meetings would be held, beginning on Monday evening. During the whole year of 1889 there had been a continual ingathering. No month had passed without a considerable increase; and now there were indications (after the week of prayer) of a deep interest in spiritual things and he desired to give greater opportunity for its manifestation.

October 14th, the Deacons' report adopted. A committee was appointed to take charge of socials. The convention was held in the audience room and was very largely attended by delegates. The business as usual was crowded into too little time, but there was no very special or exciting subject discussed. The reports showed a very prosperous year's operations.

The new church was opened according to announcement and was well attended.

Nearly all the pulpits in town were supplied by delegates to the convention.

October 29th, letters of dismission were granted to 52 members to organize a new church at the west end to be called the "Oxford Street Baptist Church." Among the number were the two strongest advocates of the enterprize, viz : Brethren Wolverton and McLaurin. They have always felt that it was wrong to give up the west end school, and for some time agitated resuming and trying to recover the lost opportunity this time by starting a church for the convenience of our west end members. By persistent pleading Brother Wolverton at length got the members interested and the result has been the erection of a building capable of seating 300 persons costing about $2,500, and the organizing of a church to which the "First Church" has dismissed about 80 of its members. The new church invited Rev. W. H. Tapscott to become its pastor, who accepted the position. A farewell social was held in the parent church to give expression to the good wishes of those who remained to those who formed the new church. Much credit is due to many earnest workers and contributors, but it would be invidious to mention any but Brother Wolverton, now principal of Bishop's College, Marshall, Texas, and Brother McLaurin who returned to his beloved work in India.

November 10th, a resolution was passed naming this church "The First Baptist Church."

Friday, June 5th, 1891, the annual members' meeting was held, the following report of which is copied from the "Sentinel-Review" of June 6th:

"The annual members' meeting of the First Baptist Church of this town has become an unalloyed pleasure to all who attend it; and the one that was held Friday last was equal, in every respect, to any former meeting. The object is of a social and edifying character; giving the members an opportunity to converse with each other, on their personal struggles and enjoyments in their Christian life, and marking their growth in grace from year to year. The evening was particularly interesting in the fact: that during the past year this church erected a new place of worship in the west end of the town, and discharged by letter 52 of its members, who formed a new church, and now have a settled pastor. An invitation was extended to the new church members, and a large number availed themselves of the reunion. The pastor, Mr. Dadson, took the chair at 4 p.m., and an hour or two were pleasantly spent in prayer, praise, and speaking, one to another, of the goodness of God. Tea was served in the lecture-room from four to eight p.m., when the pastor resumed the chair, and, as in the afternoon, a large number of old and young spoke of the past and present. Probably the most inspiring talk was that from 'Grandma Burtch,' now about 87 years of age, and who has been a zealous member of the church over 65 years. She was grateful for being able to be present, which she had not expected. Another most interesting part of the programme, was the reading of letters from absent members, from India and other distant lands, as well as from various parts of this continent, nearly all of whom sent contributions towards the building fund—to which the thank-offering is devoted."

June 7th. New members were given the hand of fellowship before the ordinance, and in the evening others were baptised.

June 9th. At the request of the Ingersoll church, for delegates to meet in council there, to try and settle a difficulty which had arisen over some doctrinal point, the following were appointed, viz: Brethren Dadson, R. H. Burtch, and R. W. Sawtell.

September 16th. The deacons' report recommended the taking up a special collection to supplement contributions to home and foreign missions—adopted. The delegates appointed to the convention at Toronto were: the pastor, W. H. Huston, R. W. Sawtell, J. Beardsall, D. W. Karn. and J. Powell. Brother Bates, for the committee of the east mission work, reported that it had been efficiently discharged during the summer. Report received and committee discharged. Brother R. W. Sawtell was appointed to write the history of this church. The brethren of Medicine Hat asked for a contribution—granted.

October 25th. The deacon's report received and read. It referred to the resignation of Miss Grove, organist; the anniversary services; social entertainments; Doe Lake church. Report adopted. The music committee reported that Miss Ketchum was the only applicant for the position of organist, and had been engaged.

Brother Huston moved that the report of the music committee be confirmed; but, as this involved the question of authority of appointments, the matter was laid over for further consideration.

On the 20th of November, a public meeting was held in the First Baptist Church to say farewell to Brother McLaurin and family. It was largely attended by friends representing the denominational interests. Brother McLaurin had been here some years recruiting his health, and during part of the time was engaged as Foreign Mission Secretary, travelling from church to church all over the land and by his presence inspiring the denomination with the mission spirit. Now he felt his strength renewed, and he knew also, that some of the active workers disapproved of the system under which he was working. He resigned and accepted a position under the American Board in Bangalore, India, where the climate is favorable to his state of health. Expressions of deep sorrow were made at the convention in Toronto, but he could not be changed in his purpose. At this farewell meeting; very affecting addresses were made and replies given quite as effective. A beautiful portrait of brother McLaurin, painted by Brother C. Hatch, was unveiled and now hangs in the College chapel. Thus, for the third time our dear brother left his church, home and gave himself to the Foreign Mission work in India. A portrait of Mrs. McLaurin and youngest child was also painted by Mr. Hatch and sent after them to India as a present from her friends here.

November 18th, the deacons' report referred to seating of students, appointing more ushers and the holding of special services, all of which were dealt with. Brother R. G. Sawtell was appointed to see that notices of our church services are put in town papers. Brethren Downs and Tegart were added to the staff of ushers.

R. W. Sawtell reported the action of the committee on socials and entertainments (1) A public reading in the town hall under the auspices of the Young People's Society. (2) The anniversary sermons to be preached by Rev. Ira Smith of London, on 20th of December. (3) A sacred concert by the choir, under the leadership of Mr. Sturgis on Monday evening, December 21st. (4) New Year's eve. suggested as a fitting time for the S. S. cantata.—Report was adopted.

Sabbath, November 20th, candidates were baptized in the evening.

December 16th, several candidates received for baptism. Deacon Karn reported that the choir could not give the concert proposed and it was decided to hold a social on the 21st, the proceeds of which to be given to the choir fund.

Sabbath, January 3rd, 1892, the hand of fellowship was extended to 12 new members.

January 13th, R. W. Sawtell reported on the part of the music committee that in consequence of circumstances preventing the concert intended to be given by the choir according to agreement with the leader, there was a deficit which the committee could not meet and the principle of paying by voluntary contributions, he feared, would have to be abandoned. The question was referred to the deacons and music committee.

January 14th. the death of Brother Cull is here recorded and a reference may be made to the fact that his godly life was a worthy example for emulation. He, for twenty years, was a faithful caretaker at the College here and by economy was enabled to give liberally to this church towards its support for over 30 years, and even on his death bed he remembered the institutions which were entwined around his heart and left small contributions to this church, the Grande Ligne Mission, the Home and Foreign Mission Societies and the balance of his little earnings to a friend.

January 20th, the deacons' report recommended that the church assume the payment of the salary of Miss McDowell and continue Bliss Griffith's services for the present, and that a tea-meeting be held at an early date to provide funds for the deficit referred to by the committee.—Report adopted and matter referred to the ladies, committee on church work.

January 27th, the ladies' committee reported favorably of the suggestion of a tea-meeting and asked for a committee of brethren to assist in the undertaking.—Report adopted and a committee appointed.

January 29th, the death of our dear brother, W. H. Huston is here recorded. He had been a member of this church only 2 or 3 years but his genial manner and Christ-like disposition for doing good endeared him to all who knew him. His desire to make the College a success in training "his boys for life-work so largely prevailed that it might be truly said that "he died of over work." That it was a denominational loss was exemplified by the large attendance from all over the land at the memorial services held at the College prior to committing his remains to its last resting place in the Baptist cemetery in this town. Thus was added the last of a large number of honored teachers of that school who gave their lives to the cause they espoused for Christ's sake.

While referring to this subject it should be stated that the successor to Brother Huston in the principalship of the College is our esteemed brother, Joseph I. Bates, whose faithful work and experience for 20 years were duly appreciated by the governors of McMaster University in the appointment made.

February 17th, in the absence of the pastor Brother Halliburton occupied the chair. Brother McKee reported progress in reference to the tea-meeting, also read the treasurer's report for the quarter. The recommendation of the deacons to appoint Mr. T. A. McCleneghan choir leader was confirmed. It was resolved that two more deacons be appointed at the next regular meeting.

March 16th. Regular monthly meeting. The treasurer reported the proceeds of the tea-meeting to be $110.

Brethren J. I. Bates and T. C. Mayberry were elected deacons in the usual manner.

R. W. Sawtell reported that after long and serious consideration he had attempted the proposed history of the church and suggested that a social be held on the seventieth anniversary of the organization of the church, April 22nd, and that part of the programme be the reading of portions of said history for the criticism of the church with a view to its publication. This was adopted and a committee appointed to carry out the arrangement.

April 6th, special church meeting according to notice. Bro. Beardsall introduced the question of the method of contributing to all denominational objects. After a long discussion on a resolution to raise everything by the envelope plan it was laid upon the table, and the following appointed to consider the matter and bring in a report, viz: R. G. Sawtell, Karn, Beardsall, Dickson, Mayberry and Bates.

April 22nd, 1892, a social was held on this seventieth anniversary when a large number was present. The programme consisted of singing and the reading of the introductory chapters of the history of the church by the writer. After the recess Brother McKechnie moved, seconded by Brother Beardsall that Brother Sawtell be urged to proceed with the history to the present time and that the church assume the publication of the same. The resolution was passed and thus endeth the record to date. It might be added in conclusion that in no period in the history of the church has it manifested greater zeal for the salvation of souls, greater liberality in giving or greater unity in all departments of church work.

The church is permeated with the Mission spirit. How could it be otherwise, with the continued influence of such men as Father Bates, Dr. Fyfe, John McLaurin, A. V. Timpany and the Bates family, and others who have gone out from this church to the Foreign field?

The greatest harmony prevails with the Oxford street off-spring to which there has been dismissed nearly eighty of our actual members. This, however, has been one of the events "that scattereth yet increaseth," for our membership is nearly as large as before. Our gifts to the treasury are yearly increasing and another increase of two hundred dollars has been made to our pastor's salary. For all these and the un-enumerated blessings we ascribe to the "God of all grace," glory: honor and grateful adoration.
